Introduction

The Middlebury German School, founded in 1915 by Marian P. Whitney and Lilian L. Stroebe of Vassar College, is the oldest of the Middlebury Language Schools. Its Directors were Dr. Stroebe (until 1917), Ernst Feise of Johns Hopkins University (from its reopening in 1931 to 1948), and Werner Neuse of Middlebury (1948-1967). Henry H.H. Remak of Indiana University has been Director since 1967.

The School has again attracted a representative cross-section of Germanisten from this continent and from Europe. From the University of Freiburg im Breisgau we are happy to welcome back Hubert Ohl and Lutz Röhrich, and Alwin Diemer will be returning to Middlebury from the new University of Düsseldorf. One of the foremost Thomas Mann specialists, Hans Wysling, is coming over from Zürich to teach a seminar on Doktor Faustus, and representing French Germanistik is Gérard Schneilin from the University of Paris. The United Kingdom is sending us Ladislaus Lôb of the University of Sussex, and Danish Germanistik is represented by Jytta Heine.

The United States contingent consists of returning faculty: Werner Haas, Thomas Huber, Erna Neuse, Hanns Steger, and newcomers: Jürgen Eichhoff of the University of Wisconsin, Stefan Grunwald of Old Dominion University, Udo Münnich of Michigan State University, Ferdinand Piedmont and Heinz Vater, both of Indiana University.

The German School is making a particular effort to meet the changing needs of its students and to respond to the thoughtful suggestions we have received from students and faculty. Consequently, we have maintained at full strength or increased, courses in the "Civilization" category, including history, intellectual history, philosophy, folklore, and music history. We are also offering a greater variety of courses in the field of contemporary language analysis and teaching, as well as an introduction to Middle High German, Linguistics, and Literature. The increased linguistic proficiency of our students has made it possible to decrease the number of oral practice sections. In the area of literature, we have decreased the number of more advanced seminars and added prosemantics.

We have further developed the flexibility of our program by scheduling two courses which may be taken either as regular courses or as seminars, and two other courses (one in literature, one in oral practice) which may be taken for the first three weeks only (for one hour of credit) or for the entire six weeks (for two hours of credit).

In general, it is our policy to maintain a healthy balance between traditional and innovative courses. While we are conscious of our particular obligation to high school and college teachers of German, we are also keeping in mind students with different aims, including non-majors.

THE MIDDLEBURY IDEA

The unifying feature of the "Middlebury method" has been the firm commitment of each student and staff member "to use only the language of the school during the entire session, wherever he may be." This tradition has contributed significantly to both individual and group success in each school; and willingness to maintain this tradition is a measure of any student's motivation to take maximum advantage of the opportunity which the Schools offer.

Introductory Notes: All courses, except Language Practice, will normally require mid-session and end-of-session written examinations for all students. No research papers will be written in these courses, but brief oral reports based on written notes may be required.

Proseminars will normally require three brief papers of about three to four pages each, or the equivalent. These papers may incorporate only a minimum of secondary literature.

Seminars will normally not have comprehensive intermediate or final examinations, although brief tests may be given at the discretion of the Instructor. One paper, not exceeding 15 to 20 typewritten double spaced pages, will be expected of students enrolled in seminars. Seminar papers are expected to make use of a reasonable amount of secondary literature to the extent it is available at Middlebury.

Candidates for the M.A. degree from the German Summer School at Middlebury must have successfully taken a regular seminar (not a proseminar) before being eligible for the degree.

I. LITERATURE

1. INTRODUCTION TO LITERARY SCHOLARSHIP.
Introduction to the terminology and methods of literary analysis.

Thomas Huber, Ferdinand Piedmont, Gérard Schneillin
2. GERMAN LITERATURE IN THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY.
Literature of the Thirty-Years' War including works by Opitz, Moscherosch, and Grimmelshausen. Theater of the Baroque.
Course: two examinations, no papers.
Proseminar: three short papers or reports of 3-4 pages each, no examinations.

Stefan Grunwald

3. LESSING
Study of the emergence of German as a literary language. Close readings of a selection of Lessing's poetic, dramatic, and theoretical writings. Contrasting material from other writers of the Enlightenment (e.g., Gottsched, Herder, Mendelssohn).

(Proseminar) Thomas Huber

5. GERMAN DRAMA FROM KLASSIK TO NATURALISM.
Detailed study of Goethe's Egmont and Tasso, Schiller's Don Carlos and Maria Stuart, Kleist's Amphitryon and Prinz Friedrich von Homburg, Buchner's Woyzeck, Hebbel's Agnes Bernauer, Hauptmann's Die Weber and Die Ratten, linked with a general survey of the development of German dramatic theory and practice in the period covered.

Ladislaus Löb

7. THE "SEDUCED MAIDEN" MOTIF IN GERMAN DRAMA.
Historical, sociological, and structural analysis of German drama from the Enlightenment to our time through the theme of the "verführte Mädchen" in Lessing's Emilia Galotti, Goethe's Faust I, Lenz' Die Soldaten, Büchner's Woyzeck, Hebbel's Maria Magdalena, Hauptmann's Rose Bernd, Brecht's Der gute Mensch von Sezuan, Hacks' Die Kindsmörderin, and Dürrenmatt's Der Besuch der alten Dame.

(Proseminar) Gérard Schneilin
9. THE GERMAN BALLAD.
Survey of the evolution of the literary ballad from the XVIIIth century to the present. Discussion of the place of this genre in the various epochs and in the work of particular authors.

Hubert Ohl

14. INTRODUCTION TO THOMAS MANN.
General background of Mann's life, work, and times. Close reading of Tristan, Tonio Kröger, Der Tod in Venedig, and Mario und der Zauberer. Course: ends July 23, 1 credit.

Henry Remak

15. THOMAS MANN'S DOKTOR FAUSTUS.
Structural and sociological analysis. Seminar (for advanced students): begins July 26, 1 credit. (Students must have taken course number 14 or obtain special permission from Mr. Remak. Students must have read Doktor Faustus before the seminar starts. Seminar paper topics will be chosen by July 12 in consultation with Mr. Remak.)

Hans Wysling

Note: M.A. candidates may fulfill their seminar requirement by taking courses no. 14 and 15.

18. ROBERT MUSIL.
Introduction to the work of Musil through precise analyses of texts selected from the Nachlass zu Lebenszeiten and Drei Frauen. (Seminar)

Hubert Ohl

II. CIVILIZATION

31. GERMAN HISTORY.
Survey of the most important periods of German history with particular stress on the XIXth and XXth centuries (until 1945).

Werner Haas

33. GERMAN CULTURE AND CIVILIZATION.
General introduction, historic as well as systematic, to "Kulturkunde". Definition of terms. Historical survey, stressing "Geistesgeschichte", of the XIXth century, followed by typological examination of such phenomena as Klassik, Romantik, Impressionismus, Expressionismus.

Alwin Diemer

35. GREAT GERMAN THINKERS.
After introductory remarks on Kant and Hegel, analysis and interpretation of Schopenhauer, Marx, Nietzsche, and Freud. (For advanced students.)
Taken as a proseminar: three short papers or reports of 3-4 pages each, no examinations.
Taken as a seminar: one substantial paper, utilizing secondary literature, of 15-18 pages, no examinations.

Alwin Diemer

42. INTRODUCTION TO GERMAN FOLKLORE.
Survey course. Volksprosa: Märchen, Sage, Legende, Schwank, Witz, Rätsel. Investigation of age, cultural background, and characteristics of genres and sub-genres, of formal principles and structures, types, motifs. Continuity and functional changes up to our own days.

History and structure of the Lied with special emphasis on its genres and sub-genres which have been anonymously and orally transmitted (Volkslied). Erzählende Lieder, Ballade, Zeitungslied, Liebeslied, Kiltlied, Brauchtumslied, Handwerker- und Berufslied, Schnaderhüpfl. From medieval to modern times.
Taken as a course: two examinations, no papers.
Taken as a proseminar: three short papers or reports of 3-4 pages each, no examinations.
Taken as a seminar: one substantial paper, utilizing secondary literature, of 15-18 pages, no examinations.

Lutz Röhrich

46. MUSIC AND LITERATURE: The LIED.
Analysis of music and words and their inter-relationship in three German song cycles, probably Schumann-Heine, Wolf-Mörike, and Hindemith-Rilke.

Hanns Steger

III. LANGUAGE ANALYSIS AND HISTORY

50. INTRODUCTION TO MIDDLE HIGH GERMAN.
The structure of Middle High German and a survey of the literature with readings from the Nibelungenlied, Walther von der Vogelweide, and Helmbrecht. (No previous knowledge of Middle High German required.)

Jürgen Eichhoff

52. INTRODUCTION TO LINGUISTICS.
Within a generative framework, a study of the principles of the structure of language in general and of German in particular: syntax, semantics, phonology.

Heinz Vater

54. CONTRASTIVE GRAMMAR OF ENGLISH AND GERMAN.
Structural conflicts between the two languages of today, especially as they affect the learning of German as a foreign language.
(Counts as language structure course toward the M.A.)

Jürgen Eichhoff
55. GERMAN PHONETICS.
Brief survey of the general concepts of phonetics and phonemics and of the phonological system of German. Drill sessions in small groups and intensive practice in the language laboratory. Pronunciation practice and exercises in intonation and sound articulation.

Heinz Vater

IV. LANGUAGE PRACTICE

62. STYLISTICS.
Systematic study of advanced grammar, style, shades of meaning, adequacy of expression, and organization of essays by way of compositions. Thorough knowledge of basic German grammar required.

Stefan Grunwald, Jytta Heine, Ladislaus Löb, Udo Münich

67. ADVANCED ORAL PRACTICE.
Intensive training in small groups. Specific program for each hour on specially assigned, timely subjects. (One section will be taught by Miss Heine for the first three weeks and by Mr. Wysling for the last three weeks. Students may take the entire six-week section for 2 credits, or the first or second half for 1 credit each.)

Werner Haas, Jytta Heine, Udo Münich, Hans Wysling

V. THE TEACHING OF GERMAN

71. METHODS OF TEACHING LANGUAGE.
73. TEACHING OF LITERATURE ON THE COLLEGE LEVEL.
Teaching approaches and techniques. Introduction to and explication of various literary genres.
(Counts toward the literature requirement of the M.A.)

COURSES LOADS, CREDITS, AND PREREQUISITES

Every student is required to enroll for three courses during the session, including at least one literature or civilization course. Exceptions from the three course minimum may be granted to master's candidates spending their last summer in Middlebury prior to graduation, but such exceptions do not carry with them any reduction in fees. Students will not be permitted to drop below the three course requirement for the purpose of avoiding a low grade. Each student will be given individual counseling to determine whether he should carry three or four courses and to help him select courses which do not make excessive demands on his time and effort.

Credits.
Unless otherwise indicated, two semester hours of credit are awarded for each course.

Proseminars and Seminars.
Students are encouraged to enroll in a proseminar before taking a seminar. They may take the proseminar concurrently with "Introduction to Literary Scholarship".

Students who plan to attend the Middlebury Graduate School of German in Mainz are required to take both the "Introduction to Literary Scholarship" and one proseminar or seminar. The same is recommended to students planning studies at German-speaking universities. The first seminar may be taken as early as the second summer and preferably no later than the third summer. "Introduction to Literary Scholarship" or its equivalent as approved by the Director or his representative is a prerequisite for admission to a seminar.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

The German Summer School offers programs for two advanced degrees: The MASTER OF ARTS degree requires an approved program of 30 credits, of which 20 must be earned in residence. At least 20 credits must concentrate in the major language (see listing below), and 10 may be chosen in closely related subjects approved by the Director.

Required Courses:
Group I: Introduction to Literary Scholarship
1 Seminar course in Literature
1 Survey course in Literature
2 other Literature courses

Group II: 2 Civilization courses

Group III: Structural Elements of Contemporary German Phonetics

Group IV: Stylistics
   Advanced Oral Practice

Group V: Methods of Teaching Language

A minimum of 10 credits in German Literature must be earned at the Middlebury German School. By special permission of the Director, a civilization course taken at Middlebury and considered equivalent to a literature course may be substituted for one of the "two other literature courses" required for the Middlebury M.A.

All candidates for a degree from Middlebury are required to pass "Introduction to Literary Scholarship," provided they entered Middlebury during or after the summer of 1969. Students who entered Middlebury before 1969 are strongly advised but not required to take it. No course equivalent to the "Introduction" (whether "Advanced Stylistics", as offered at Middlebury until 1968, or a similar course taken elsewhere) shall count as fulfilling the requirement if it was completed eight or more years before the candidate's expected M.A. graduation.

Master's candidates are reminded that students are admitted for one summer only, must reapply for any succeeding summer, and that enrollment in a school or the passing of graduate courses in it does not constitute acceptance as a candidate for a degree. In marginal cases, the German School reserves the right to administer a special oral examination to a candidate before admitting him to the degree.

The Middlebury DOCTOR OF MODERN LANGUAGES degree is a very demanding degree with special requirements; information about this degree is detailed in a special brochure available on request from the German School office.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS AND FACILITIES

All students are expected to live in the German dormitories: Painter, Starr and Voter Hall. All three dormitories have single and double rooms which are assigned in order of receipt of the registration fee. A few rooms are available for married couples when both husband and wife are accepted in the School. Permission to live off campus is given only to a student with native command of German or a German spouse.

The German School's social and dining center is the Stephen A. Freeman Society. The office of the German School is on the ground floor of Sunderland Language Center.

The College Library is well stocked with books in German language, literature, and cultural history. Books which may be needed for reference in certain courses are placed on reserve in the library. The German School also has a useful reference library of its own which is set up in the "Max Kade Room", a reading and study room in Freeman Society.

LIFE IN SCHOOL

The German School is more than an intensive classroom exercise; it endeavors to represent a total cultural and human experience. Students are expected to take advantage of the intellectual, artistic, and social program of the School outside the scheduled curriculum.

Lectures and Discussions
There will be special presentations by some faculty members and visiting lecturers, including Victor Lange, Princeton University, and Ludwig Kahn, Columbia. All lectures are followed by informal discussions. The School will also encourage student-faculty discussions on a wide range of topics.

Theater, Music and Films
Under Mr. Piedmont's guidance we will introduce a change in our theater program. Instead of staging a full-length play, groups of students and faculty will present, with minimal stage requisites, scenes from dramas being read and discussed in literature courses this summer. Some scenes will be introduced with explanatory remarks by faculty and students engaged in the study of the particular drama. Following the presentation there will be discussions involving both actors and audience.

The German School enjoys an outstanding reputation for its concerts and recitals. Most of them are given by members of the School and occasionally complemented by artists from outside. Students interested in musical activities are urged to bring instruments. We will continue to provide opportunity for informal singing, a relaxing way to use German and to teach some of its cultural heritage.

Several recent German films will be shown during the summer.

Literarische Morgenfeiern will be replaced by more informal gatherings. Faculty and students are invited to select and read poetry and prose from all ages of the German literary heritage.

Social Life and Recreation

Middlebury is not all work. Facilities for tennis, swimming, soccer, volleyball, and riding are available on or near the campus. The area is ideal for hiking. Informal dances and other social gatherings will be continued.

Student Organization

Last summer students elected representatives to take part in faculty meetings and facilitate communication between administration, faculty, and students. This is a most welcome development, and all students are urged to participate in the election of their representatives, and to join with faculty and administration in bringing about those changes compatible with the educational task and the intellectual integrity of the School.
ADMISSION
The School is designed for graduate students who, possessing a good speaking, reading, and grammatical knowledge of German, wish to perfect their ability to use and teach it, to increase their understanding of its structure and history, and to deepen and broaden their acquaintance with German literature and its cultural background. A limited number of undergraduates who are strongly recommended by their instructors will be admitted after having completed at least 2 years of college-level German including one or two literature courses.

Students are admitted for one summer only and must reapply for any succeeding summer. The School reserves the right to refuse readmission to any student whose performance at Middlebury is marginal. Students are not accepted for portions of a session.

ALUMNI ORGANIZATION: FIDES

During the last summer FIDES was reactivated. It will publish a "Nachrichtenblatt" twice a year, in late fall and early spring. The first issue has already appeared. The aim of the "Nachrichtenblatt" is to inform members about highlights of the past Sommerschule, plans for the next session, and news of faculty, students and staff. Letters to the editor or the submission of short essays are welcome from everyone. FIDES will endeavor to organize meetings of "Sommerschulveteranen und-innen" in various parts of the country in connection with regional or national modern language meetings.

The 1970-71 officers of FIDES are: Tom Ulmet, President, 10 Buck Street, Canton, New York, 13617; Reverend Gregory Battafarano, Vice-President, 6828 Mt.
Carmel Drive, Houston, Texas 77017, and Horst Richardson, Secretary-Treasurer (and editor of "Nachrichten-blatt"), Department of German, Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80903.

APPLICATION
An application form for the German Summer School is included in this catalog. Please answer all questions on the application as fully as possible. Attach additional sheets if necessary.

All applications for admission must be supported by complete official transcripts of all academic work completed above the secondary-school level.

Students may be admitted to the German School as late as April or May. However, it is advisable to submit all application materials as early as possible. Applications involving financial aid must be received no later than March 15 (See Financial Aid, page 31).

AUDITING COURSES
A regularly enrolled student may audit a course without charge in any School with the permission of his Director and the Director of the School giving the course. For persons not enrolled, the fee for auditing a course is $50.00 per week or $175.00 for four or more weeks. Auditors are welcome to attend all classes, and may take an active part in the social events and extra-curricular activities of the School. They may be accommodated in the dormitory and dining hall of the School if space is available, and will be expected to abide by the language-of-the-School-only rule at all times when they are at the School.

AUTOMOBILES
Students are invited to bring their automobiles; parking space in the summer is limited and regulated. All drivers register their automobiles with Campus Security at the time of arrival and must adhere strictly to the driving and parking regulations of the College and the Town of Middlebury.

BAGGAGE
Baggage can be sent by REA Express or with the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines.

CAREER PLACEMENT
The Placement Office provides all Summer School students and alumni of Middlebury College with a central source of job information, and with personal counseling on career planning. Students should register with the Placement Office as soon as possible after their arrival.

COMMENCEMENT -- 1971
Commencement exercises for those receiving degrees in the summer of 1971 will be held on Tuesday evening, August 17.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE GERMAN SCHOOL
Correspondence concerning admission to the School, courses, fees, etc., should be addressed to:

Secretary of the German School
Sunderland Language Center
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753
Telephone (802) 388-7165

CREDITS
Unless otherwise stated in the course descriptions, all courses offer two credits at the graduate level. Credits earned toward a degree at Middlebury expire ten years after the date of course completion.

A qualified undergraduate may accumulate a maximum of twelve graduate credits toward a Middlebury M.A. before receipt of the B.A., or equivalent, and acceptance as a degree candidate.
Students planning to take a specific course or courses elsewhere with the idea of transferring the credit to Middlebury are asked to consult with the Director of the School beforehand. He, together with the Director of the Middlebury Language Schools, determines the number of transfer credits - if any - that are to be accepted toward the Middlebury degree. A student may transfer up to ten hours of credit for graduate level work done at other institutions. No transfer credits will be approved until the student has been at Middlebury for at least one summer. No more than six hours of transfer credit will be granted for NDEA summer institutes (civilization, 2 credits; oral practice or stylistics, 2 credits; teaching methods or language structure, 2 credits). Transfer credits toward a Middlebury degree expire ten years after completion of the study if the degree has not been earned.

DATES AND ENROLLMENT PROCEDURES -- 1971
The German School dormitories, Painter Hall, Starr Hall, and Voter Hall will be open to receive students the evening of Thursday, July 1. The first meal served will be lunch on July 2. The German School will close after lunch on Thursday, August 19, and no students can be accommodated after that time.

Upon arrival, each student should report to Sunderland Language Center where registration will be held Thursday evening, July 1, Friday, July 2, and Saturday, July 3.

The formal opening of the School will be held on Sunday afternoon, July 4, and all students are expected to be present. Classes begin on Monday, July 5, and last through Friday, August 13. Final examinations will be held from Saturday, August 14, through Tuesday, August 17.
FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT
The campus of Middlebury College is especially suited to the Summer Language Schools and their approach to a unified language experience. Each School has separate residence halls and dining facilities where only the language being studied is spoken.

Wright Theatre is available to each School which presents plays, poetry readings, etc. Dana Auditorium is the setting for the presentation of more than fifty foreign films and over fifty guest lecturers during the summer.

The College Store handles sales of textbooks for all courses and has a wide collection of complementary texts and contemporary and classical readings in all languages. It also offers general study and personal supplies.

The College Library is available to all summer students—with stack privileges. To complement the Library collection, each School maintains a curriculum library of current texts, recordings, etc.

The Stephen A. Freeman Language Laboratory is shared by all of the Schools and students use it free of additional charge. Each sound-proof, air-conditioned, individual practice carrel includes a console combining two tape recording and playback machines, permitting the student to work individually and in a flexible manner on his own exercise, at his own preferred speed and time.

FEES
The administration reserves the right to make any changes without notice in courses, staff, living arrangements, etc. The following information about fees should be carefully noted.

Rates
Rates in all the Schools vary according to single or double occupancy of rooms. The inclusive fee for registration, tuition, board and room will be from $675 to $725. A student's entire bill is payable upon receipt. Checks should be made payable to Middlebury College. Bills are mailed on May 1. Any student who cannot pay his bill in full by June 1 will be placed on a waiting list, and vacancies in each School will be filled as payment is received.

Registration Fee
Each accepted applicant must pay a $50 registration fee. This fee will be credited to the student's total bill and an applicant is considered officially registered only when he has paid this fee. It is required of every student. No dormitory space is assigned until this fee is received. This fee will be refunded only if notice of cancellation is received before April 25; after April 25, no refund will be made.

Auditors
All courses in a School are open to auditing at any time without charge by members of that School, or by members of another of the Language Schools on permission of both the respective Directors. Visitors to Middlebury, not members of a School, may be permitted to enroll as auditors, on payment of the fee of $50 a week or $175 for four or more weeks, arrangements to be made in the office of the Language Schools.

Enrollment in Two Schools
A student enrolled in one School may also enroll for credit in another School, on payment of an additional fee of $50 per course, if by reason of his proficiency, he receives the consent of the Directors of both Schools. This privilege is subject to the limitations of staff and space, and may not be available in certain heavily elected courses. Students interested in a particular course should inquire in advance.

Transcript Fees
One official transcript of a summer's work will be issued without charge on written request to the College Registrar. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each additional transcript. No transcripts will be issued or grades given to students financially indebted to the College, until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the office of the Cashier.

Refunds
Owing to fixed obligations for instruction and maintenance, persons arriving late or leaving school before the close of the session must not expect reimbursement of any charges. No allowances will be made for week-end absences.

FINANCIAL AID
The Language Schools of Middlebury College offer several types of Financial Aid:
1. Tuition remission scholarships (partial or total).
2. Board, and/or room scholarships.
3. Work scholarships of differing amounts; work may be in kitchens, dining rooms, mail courier service, etc.

The German School offers several special scholarships for the 1971 session:
The Martin Sommerfeld Memorial Scholarship, established by former students and faculty members in memory of Professor Sommerfeld who taught in the summer of 1939.
The Arno Schirokauer Memorial Scholarship, established by FIDES in memory of Professor Schirokauer who formerly taught in the German School.
The Ernst Feise Memorial Scholarship, established by FIDES in memory of Professor Feise who was the Director of the School from 1931 to 1948.
The Werner Neuse Scholarship, established by FIDES and friends of this distinguished Director of the German School from 1948 to 1967.

A number of scholarships are offered through a grant by the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany.
All are awarded on the basis of need, merit, and scholastic promise. Occasionally, scholarship holders may be asked to assist in the operation of the German School.

Application forms should be submitted by March 15. Awards of financial aid will be announced about April 1.

GRADING
The passing grade in the Language Schools is 80 for graduate students, 70 for undergraduate students.

HEALTH SERVICES
A full-time physician assisted by a registered nurse holds regular office hours at the infirmary, and is on call at all times in case of emergency. This service is free to all enrolled students. When the nature of a student's illness requires the continued services of a doctor, hospitalization, or special medication, the student assumes all financial obligations involved, as his fees to the College do not cover them. The tuition fee does include an accident insurance policy with limited coverage. Special diets cannot be provided.

HOUSING -- OFF-CAMPUS
Formal written permission must be obtained from the Director before students will be considered for off-campus living. Housing in Middlebury is very limited and the School is not able to undertake the task of securing furnished rooms or apartments in the village beyond sending a list of realtors and available addresses. The intensive nature of the program, together with the language pledge, make a session at the School incompatible with a family vacation and students are discouraged from having their families come to the Middlebury area for the summer.

LAUNDRY AND LINEN
Students must furnish their own linen. There is a linen-rental service available which will furnish sheets, pillow-case, and towels once a week. The dormitory is provided with a coin-operated automatic washer and dryer. Other arrangements for personal laundry may be made in the village after arrival (See Rooms-Furnished).

LOCATION OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE
Middlebury College, founded in 1800 and still one of the most charming of New England colleges, is located in a lovely Vermont countryside at the foot of the Green Mountains not far from Lake Champlain. The summer climate is delightful, and evenings tend to be cool. No college in the East offers more attractive opportunities for out-of-door recreation. The program of studies normally leaves late afternoons and week-ends free. Students frequently spend an afternoon hiking in the mountains or swimming at Lake Dunmore. Lake Champlain, Mount Mansfield, Ticonderoga, the Adirondacks, Lake Placid, or the White Mountains; all can be visited in a day's trip.

MAILING ADDRESS
Please inform all correspondents of the exact dates of the session and make certain that forwarding formalities are completed with the College Post Office, Proctor Hall, at the end of the session. Your address during the session will be:

(your assigned dormitory)
German Summer School
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

PLEDGE
The sole medium of communication both inside and outside the classroom during the entire session is the language of the School. Students pledge themselves, upon arrival, to use the language exclusively while enrolled in the School. When a student pays his fee, he understands this requirement, is willing to sign an "Honor" agreement at the time of registration, and is willing to be governed by it throughout the session. Only the Director, or his designated assistant, may grant temporary release from the language pledge in cases which may warrant it. (An exception to the rule is made in certain reading assignments, since to restrict readings in such areas as literary criticism and methodology of teaching would be to seriously restrict access to major scholarship in these areas. Even in such cases, however, all discussion will be carried out in the language of the School.) The School may dismiss at any time and without refund any student who willfully breaks the language pledge.

It is requested that students not have subscriptions for English-language publications forwarded to their school address, nor should students bring with them radios, or phonograph records with lyrics not in the language of the School.

ROOMS--FURNISHED
All rooms in the dormitories are furnished, including pillows and blankets. Students must furnish their own linens, however.

The dormitories open for occupancy the evening of July 1, and close on August 19.

TRANSPORTATION
Middlebury is located halfway between Burlington and Rutland, Vermont. Students not arriving by automobile may make bus connections on the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines in New York City, Boston, Albany, Montreal or Burlington. Bus schedules will be provided on request. There is no railroad passenger service to Middlebury. There is scheduled air service to Burlington from Boston, New York City, Montreal, Albany, Bangor, Cleveland and Detroit.

Middlebury College announces the fifty-sixth session of its French School. The School has, in all its divisions, expanded its traditionally strong course offerings. In the division of Literature and Civilization, twelve literature courses, three courses in Explications de Textes, and four civilization courses, scheduled in complementary groupings, will be offered. The recent periods, always popular, will be favored. PROFESSOR ALQUIÉ, of the Sorbonne, the admired Visiting Professor in 1967, will return to discuss his views on the philosophy of Surrealism, on which he is one of the world’s foremost authorities. The Visiting Lecturer, M. CARDUNER, has chosen André Gide as the subject of his lectures. M. HAAR will return to Existentialism and the Dean, M. BOURCIER, will present the contemporary theater. Recent French history will be discussed by M. LAUNAY. No period will be neglected. A subject in the XIXth century will be discussed by M. NEEFS, and one in the XVIIIth century by MM. LASCOUNES and RAMBAUD. The Director, M. BOORSCH, will offer a course on Racine, while the culture of the XVIth century will be presented by M. BONIFACIO. M. VADON will treat the subject of French Humanism. M. POIRION, one of the most competent French medievalists, will direct two studies in this field. The courses on Explication de Textes will be offered by three different professors. In the domain of Methods, one of the best informed French experts on the subject, MME STOURDZÉ, will join our faculty. In Phonetics a new course in Dramatic Diction, connected with a course on the theater, will be introduced by Mlle KOHLER, to complement the course on diction by Mme MARIN. In the Language division, the implementation of the aims of Advanced Composition will be somewhat modified under the impulsion of M. VIOLLET. Finally the theatrical activities, directed as last year by M. MARIN should duplicate and even exceed the exciting performances realized last summer. This should certainly be a successful session.

I. LANGUAGE

11. Advanced French Stylistics 9:00
   Designed to give advanced students a finer feeling for French style, a sense for shades of meaning, a mastery of certain difficulties not discussed in more elementary courses. Theoretical lessons in stylistics; advanced exercises in translation and composition. Strictly limited to fifteen students. (Required for D.M.L. candidates.)
   M. Rambaud

12. Advanced Composition 8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00
   For students who, having a good knowledge of French, have not yet mastered certain peculiarities of syntax and phrasing. Texts of increasing difficulty translated into French; a few compositions; class discussions. Sections limited to fifteen students.
   M. Viollet, Mme Kerblat-Blanchenay, Mlle Vincent

Note:
Courses 11 (Stylistics) and 12 (Advanced Composition) may, with the consent of the Dean, be taken a second summer for credit, since the material of the course is varied each year.

13. Advanced Grammar 8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00
   Systematic presentation of the more complex points of grammar. Intensive practice in writing. Study of practical applications to language teaching.
   Mme Fourel, Mllses Gottlieb, Lussan, Malavelle, Noël

14. Advanced Practice in Writing 9:00
   Exercises in creative writing. Systematic practice in self-expression; emphasis on style and structural organization.
   Mlle Malavelle

Note:
A written test will be given early in all the Language Courses. According to the results of this test, students will be assigned to the proper section of the course in which they registered, or to another course in this group.

II. PHONETICS AND DICTION

20. Dramatic Diction and Expression 9:00, 11:00
Designed to teach the professional secrets of theatrical diction and to show how to impart this knowledge to students for the staging of plays. The texts used will be discussed from other angles in Course 54, The Fight for Freedom in the Theater.

Mlle Kohler

21. Diction, Intonation, Elocution 9:00, 11:00
Intended to complete the work done in phonetics. Aims to impart the expressive shading of French diction, used in ordinary conversation or in public speaking. The course will make use of prose and poetry texts as well as of texts studied in course 62. Prerequisite: course 22 or 23 or their equivalent.

Mme Marin

22. Advanced Phonetics 9:00
A lecture course on the physiology, acoustics, and perception of speech and the phonetic characteristics of French. Prerequisite: Intermediate Phonetics or equivalent.

M. Malécot

23. Intermediate Phonetics 8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00
Designed to acquaint the student with the articulatory detail of French and to perfect his own accent. Required practice in the Language Center with recorded models.

M. Malécot; Mlles Chamaillard, Pons

Notes:
1. In all Phonetics and Diction Classes, placement tests will be given at the beginning, and each section will be limited to fifteen students.
2. In all Phonetics and Diction classes, intensive audio-oral training is provided, and all students are required to make regular use of the facilities of the Language Center.

III. METHODS AND PROFESSIONAL TRAINING

31. Structural and Active Methodology in the Teaching of French at the Intermediate Levels 9:00
The transition from an audio-lingual approach to the written and oral mastery of everyday French; and the further steps toward the grasping of literary French with appropriate exercises taken from actual French literary texts. Mimeographed texts will be provided.

Mme Stourdżé
32. The Teaching of Typical Language Difficulties

English-speaking students, at an intermediate or advanced level of their study of French, usually meet a certain number of language difficulties that go beyond the mastery of grammar and vocabulary; the course will aim first at making a systematic listing of such difficulties and then at seeking solutions with the active cooperation of all involved. Mimeographed texts will be provided.

Mme Stourdزé

IV. LITERATURE AND CIVILIZATION

41. Society in Medieval France

The course will study the multiple foundations of the civilization of France and the Western World, in particular the Roman, Christian, Barbarian, and feudal influences.

Textbooks:

M. Launay

42. Le Grand Siècle (1625-1715). The “Great Century”

How French preponderance was established from the time of Richelieu through the reign of Louis XIV. From the Baroque period to the Classical Age and its political, religious and economic background. The difficulties and decline of the system. Towards the Age of Enlightenment.

Textbooks:

M. Bonifacio

43. The Evolution of French Society in the Last Hundred Years

A study of the interrelated changes in the social, ideological, political and economic factors which have affected the life of France since 1870.

Textbooks:
G. Bourgin, La Troisième République (1870-1914), Colin, U2; J. Néré, La Troisième République (1914-1940), Colin, U2; G. Dupeux, La France depuis 1945, Colin, U2; P. Sorlin, La Société Française (1840-1940), Arthaud.

M. Launay
44. France Since the Liberation
The course will discuss the profound changes which have transformed the French structures in the last twenty-five years and the way in which governmental planning will affect the future of the nation.

Textbooks:

M. Bonifacio

50. Studies in Old French
Reading and interpretation of texts chosen for a progressive study of old French language and rhetoric.

Textbooks:

M. Poirion

51. Medieval French Theater
The course will study the evolution of the French theater from the liturgical drama to the Mystère de la Passion.

Textbooks:

M. Poirion

52. Rabelais and Montaigne in the Development of French Humanism
Through the works of Rabelais and Montaigne, the course will study the spirit of humanism confronting the medieval world. These two authors will be presented as complementary faces of the French Renaissance. The Pléiade edition for both authors is recommended.

M. Vadon

53. Racine and Contemporary Criticism
A study of Racine's theater in itself and against the background of its times, and as object of discussion among contemporary critics (Mauron, Barthes, Goldmann, Picard, etc. . .). The whole theater will be referred to, with special emphasis on Andromaque, Britannicus, Bérénice, Bajazet, Iphigénie, and Phèdre.

M. Boorsch
54. Social Satire: The Fight for Freedom in the Theater 10:00
From Molière to Dubillard, by way of Marivaux, Becque, M. Aymé, B. Vian, etc. the course will put into light the liberating powers of the theater working through the texts and their scenic realizations. Course No. 20, Dramatic diction and expression, is organized in connection with this course.

M. Marin

55. Theater and Society in the Eighteenth Century 8:00
A study of the part played by the stage in the development of the Age of Enlightenment, from the death of Molière to Beaumarchais. The following plays will be studied: Lesage, Turcaret; Marivaux, Arlequin poli par l'Amour, le Jeu de l'Amour et du Hasard, l'Epreuve; Voltaire, Zaire; Sedaine, le Philosophe sans le savoir; Beaumarchais, le Barbier de Séville, le Mariage de Figaro.

56. The Polemic Art of Voltaire between 1764 and 1769 12:00

M. Lascoumes

57. The Fantastic Short Story in France During the XIXth Century 12:00
Through a study of narrative technique, the course will attempt to examine the fascination which fantastic literature held for the readers of the 19th Century and still holds for experimental contemporary criticism. The following texts will be studied: Nodier, Smarra; Balzac, Melmoth réconcilié; Gautier, Omphale; Mérimée, La Vénus d'Ille; Nerval, Aurélia; Baudelaire, Une mort héroïque (Petits Poèmes en prose); Villiers de l'Isle Adam, Véra; Maupassant, Qui sait?

M. Neefs

60. French Existentialism and Its Main Themes 12:00
The philosophical and literary developments of French existentialism will be studied through a wide perusal of the works of Sartre, Camus and Merleau-Ponty.

M. Haar
61. Gide Revisited

Lectures: 4:00 P.M. second week
Directed Studies: Free schedule

Professor Jean Carduner will deliver five lectures during the second week. The lectures will constitute an attempt to evaluate the works of Gide by combining three approaches: sociological (social background; political and intellectual history); psychoanalytical (religious feelings, homosexuality, search of identity); structural (analysis of texts). M. Haar will direct on a free schedule the essays of related subjects which the students enrolled in the course will present. (Required for D.M.L. candidates). Texts to be studied: Les Nourritures Terrestres; La Porte Étroite; La Symphonie Pastorale; Les Caves du Vatican; Les Faux-Monnayeurs; Thésée; Oedipe; Corydon; Si le Grain ne meurt. Recommended: Jean Delay, La jeunesse d’André Gide, 2 vol.

1. M. Carduner
2. M. Haar

62. The Thought of André Breton and Surrealism

11:00

While surrealism expressed itself concretely in poetry and painting, André Breton gave philosophical, political and moral directives to the movement through a series of theoretical writings. The essential themes of his thought, their origins (in Hegel and Freud), their evolution and their influence on contemporary thought will be studied in the course. The following texts will be used: A. Breton, Les manifestes du surréalisme; Nadja; Les vases communicants; L’amour fou; Entretiens. F. Alquié, Philosophie du surréalisme.

M. Alquié

63. The Drama of Revolt and Poetry

in Twentieth Century France

9:00

The course will discuss the many trends in the French theater which during the last seventy years foreshadowed or paralleled the surrealist revolution and the literature of the absurd, without totally accepting them. Specially studied will be the precursor, Alfred Jarry, the far-reaching theories of Antonin Artaud’s “theater of cruelty,” the experiments of Roger Vitrac, Boris Vian and Roland Dubillard, the poetic realism of Georges Schéhadé and Jean Tardieu, and finally Fernando Arrabal’s “théâtre panique” and its paroxysmic explosiveness. Essential texts: Jarry, Tout Ubu (Livre de poche); Artaud, Le Théâtre et son double (N.R.F.); Vitrac, Victor ou les enfants au pouvoir (N.R.F.); Vian, Les Bâtisseurs d’empire (L’Arche); Dubillard, La Maison d’os (N.R.F.); Schéhadé, Histoire de Vasco (N.R.F.); Tardieu, Théâtre de chambre (N.R.F.); Arrabal, L’Architecte et l’empereur d’Assyrie (Bourgeois); Simon, Dictionnaire du théâtre français contemporain (Larousse).

M. Bourcier
Interpretation of French texts, according to methods widely used in French schools and universities. Texts chosen in works from the sixteenth to the twentieth century. The Recueils de textes littéraires français, by A. Chassang and Ch. Senninger, Hachette, will be used. Independent sections.

1. M. Lascoumes
2. M. Neefs
3. M. Vadon

V. ORAL PRACTICE

71. Advanced Oral Practice and Self-Expression
8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00
Carefully screened sections, limited to ten students. Intensive training in oral practice and self-expression. A detailed program for each hour; prepared discussions on assigned subjects, with definite vocabulary preparation and the building of discussion skills. (Required for Master's Degree candidates.)

Mmes Bonifacio, Neefs, Vadon

72. Patterns of Conversational French
8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00
A systematic course on the graduate level for students who already possess a real degree of oral fluency but need to acquire the habit of spoken language patterns which will make possible a spontaneity in self-expression. Students are rigorously screened at enrollment time and during the first class meetings, and sections are strictly limited to ten qualified students.

Mme Orangers, Mlle Bel

75. Vocabulary and Oral Practice
8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00
A systematic course for students who understand French readily but need to gain confidence and efficiency in speaking. The students will discuss topics and materials methodically organized.

Mmes Alquié, Poirion

Note:
Enrollment in all Oral Practice courses is on a tentative basis. At the end of the first week, students will be assigned to the proper course, according to their ability.
MAster of Arts

Preliminary Observation

The Middlebury College Degree of Master of Arts with a major in French may be earned by graduate work completed in:

a. The French School (Summer sessions only).
b. The Graduate School of French in France, preceded by one summer in the French School.

General Rules

1. Acceptance

To be considered for acceptance as a candidate for the Degree of Master of Arts with a major in French at Middlebury College, a student must submit:

a. An official transcript of his Baccalaureate degree from an approved institution;
b. An "Application for Graduate Work" to be filled out on a special form to be obtained from the Office of the Secretary of the French School.
c. Letters of Recommendation and other documents as specified below (paragraphs 6 and 7).

Priority will be given to the candidates who show their fitness to enter upon graduate work by having completed at least 24 undergraduate credits, or their equivalent, in courses of an advanced nature in French.

2. Credits and Residence

To obtain the Degree of Master of Arts at Middlebury, the completion of work equivalent to thirty credits of graduate work with minimum grades of 80, or B minus, in all courses will be necessary.

SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS

1.  Residence
Two-thirds of the required work, or twenty credits, must be completed in residence at Middlebury. This requirement may be met by not less than three summers. Not more than eight credits may be earned in one summer session, by a graduate student.

2.  Major Field and Related Subjects
Two-thirds of the required work, or twenty credits, must consist of graduate courses, taken at Middlebury or elsewhere, in French. The remaining one-third, or ten credits, may be earned in courses of graduate level, taken at Middlebury or elsewhere, in related subjects approved, or required, by the Dean of the School.

3.  Related Subjects Acceptable
For those students who choose to earn up to one-third of their credits in subjects other than French, the following recommendations are offered:
   a. Priority should be given to other Modern Foreign Languages, preferably Romance Languages, or to Classical Languages, preferably Latin.
   b. Courses in other subjects of instruction, such as English, History, Social Sciences, Art, etc., may be considered, provided their contents offer a definite connection with the study, or teaching, of French, or are of proven academic or professional interest to the candidate.
   c. Courses in Education may also be considered. However, not more than 6 credits will be usually considered in this field, exclusive of the courses in the Methods of Teaching French which the French School may offer at Middlebury.
   d. Care should be exercised, when choosing courses in subjects other than French, that they present a definite integrated or correlated aspect, in order to be acceptable.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF FRENCH
IN FRANCE STUDENTS

These students must earn a minimum of 6 graduate credits during their preliminary summer at the French School in Middlebury. They earn the equivalent of the remaining 24 credits during the academic year in Paris. A limited number of transfer credits may be accepted, but in no case will a student be permitted to earn less than the equivalent of 20 credits in French while in Paris.

1. Transfer Credits

a. Graduate work done in other institutions, and presented for transfer credit toward the Master of Arts Degree at Middlebury, must have been sanctioned by final examinations and be acceptable toward the same degree at the institution where the work was done.

b. No credits may be allowed for transfer toward a Middlebury degree which have been used for any other degree.

c. Credits acceptable for transfer may be earned by resident study in extension branches of recognized institutions, but no credit may be granted for correspondence courses unless specifically approved by the Council of Deans and Directors of the Summer Language Schools.

d. Work done in a foreign country in approved courses may be counted toward a Middlebury degree. Each individual case must be considered by the Dean of the School. However, not more than 6 credits may be allowed for a single summer session of study in a foreign country.

e. In order to apply for the transfer of credits toward a Middlebury degree, the candidate must have sent directly to the Dean of the School:

An official transcript of the work done at the other institution, bearing the raised seal of the institution, the signature of the recording officer, and a clear indication of the graduate nature of the work done, and of its acceptability toward the same degree at that institution.

2. Time Limitation on Transfer Credits
Graduate credits transferred from other institutions toward a Middlebury degree expire and may no longer be so counted after ten years have elapsed from the time the study was done. This regulation does not apply to credits already officially transferred on the records of the College prior to September 1, 1950.

3. Time Limitation on Middlebury Credits
Effective with students beginning graduate work in the summer of 1957, graduate credits earned at Middlebury College toward a Master's degree expire and may no longer be so counted after ten years have elapsed since the study was done.

4. Use of French and Admission
No student will be admitted unless he is able and willing to use only French at all times during the period of his study at Middlebury.

a. Every applicant is expected to have already a satisfactory degree of proficiency in his written and audio-oral ability in French.

b. Every applicant is expected to use only French, if accepted, from the very first moment of his arrival, at the time of enrollment when he will be required to sign a formal statement pledging his word of honor to observe this rule, until the very last moment of his departure.

c. Every applicant is expected to supply documented evidence of his ability to handle written and oral French with a certain degree of ease, as well as of his knowledge of French literature and civilization.

d. The School may refuse admission at any time prior to, or even during, enrollment time, to any applicant who, in the judgment of the School officers, does not meet this basic requirement.

e. The School may dismiss, at any time during the session, any student who willfully breaks the rule.
5. Additional Requirements

In order to provide the School with the "documented evidence" mentioned above, every new applicant is required to have sent Directly to the Dean of the School:

a. Official Transcripts of his academic record to date in all fields, and degrees, if any (in the case of college undergraduates, such transcripts must include all the grades received during the first semester of the current year).

b. Letters of Recommendation from present or past professors of French, or equally competent persons, with special reference to his written and audio-oral ability in French and seriousness of purpose (special forms to that effect may be obtained from the Dean's Office).

c. Letters of General Character Reference, on their own stationery, by persons other than those who fill out the special forms mentioned above.

d. Medical Certificate of recent date.

e. Write a Statement in French (without assistance) of about 250 words, in which he will explain his reasons for wishing to do graduate work;

f. Write a "curriculum vitae" in French, that is a biographical sketch including family background, educational highlights, extra-curricular activities, hobbies, travels, etc.;

g. Submit, if asked to do so, to a long-distance telephone interview in French, or to send in a tape-recorded conversation in French between him and a professor of French of his choice.

6. Admission Blanks

All persons wishing to be considered for admission as regularly-enrolled students, whether they are new applicants or former students, must file an application blank to be obtained from the Secretary of the French School.

7. Courses Required

Candidates for the Degree of Master of Arts in French must pass, before completion of their work, one advanced course at least in each of the following fields: Language, Phonetics, Civilization, Methods, and Oral Practice, (the last two fields are not required of students in the Graduate School of French in France program) and earn not less than 10 credits in advanced courses in the field of Literature.

Students who transfer credits for equivalent courses taken elsewhere may request release from the corresponding required courses at Middlebury.

8. Correspondence

Correspondence concerning graduate work undertaken during the summer should be addressed to the Dean of the French School.

All correspondence should be addressed to Secretary, Ecole Française, Sunderland Hall, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont 05753.

DOCTOR OF MODERN LANGUAGES

The Middlebury D.M.L. degree is a very demanding degree with special requirements; information about this degree is detailed in a special brochure available on request from the Director.
Life in the School

USE OF FRENCH

No student will be admitted unless he is able and willing to use only French at all times, during the seven weeks of the session. Each student, when enrolled, will sign a formal statement, pledging his word of honor to observe this rule. The School reserves the right to refuse admission, at the opening of the session, to any student who fails to satisfy this basic requirement, and to dismiss, at any time, students who willfully break the rule.

ACADEMIC COUNSELLING

The offices of the Director and Dean are in the Sunderland Language Center. The entire staff of the School is at the disposal of all students for counselling, at regular consultation hours announced early in the session, or by appointment.

BOOKS

The collections of French books, in the College Library and the Château contain about 18,000 volumes dealing with all phases of French study — language, literature, history, civilization, art, and teaching methods.

General supplies, dictionaries, etc. can be purchased at the College Bookstore, in Proctor Hall.

La Librairie française, in the Château, attempts to reproduce a bookshop in France, handling French classics and reference works, but specializing in contemporary novels, poetry, drama, and non-fiction.

PLANNED ACTIVITIES

The organized activities of the School are designed to make the life of the students as enjoyable and as profitable as possible: Formal lectures, or informal “causeries,” are occasionally presented by the Director, other professors, or visiting guest lecturers.
A weekly "Gazette" is published by the School, giving advance notice of all interesting events, information about job openings, etc.

Every Sunday morning, the College Chapel is used by the French School for an hour of instrumental and vocal music, and readings from spiritual or philosophical writings. The French School Choir of one hundred voices is a celebrated feature.

In cooperation with the other Language Schools, the French School also presents foreign moving pictures, on weekday afternoons and evenings, and chamber music or vocal concerts by guest artists, on Sunday evenings.

Picnics, community sings, sports, and outdoor activities afford occasions for continued association with the faculty and easy, spontaneous use of the language.

Above all, the School is able to offer four dramatic presentations during the summer, usually on Friday nights. Carefully prepared, with painstaking attention to scenery, lighting, costuming, and staging, they always attract a large and appreciative audience, provide relaxation, and acquaint the teacher-students with simple yet effective plays that can be duplicated in their own schools without undue effort.

DORMITORIES

The dormitories of the French School are le Château, Battell North, Center and South, and Hadley.

The identifying feature of the French School and a cherished landmark of the campus, le Château was inspired by the Pavillon Henri IV of the palace of Fontainebleau. It contains two salons, two classrooms, a library, and housing for 43 students.

DINING HALL

In the dining hall of the School, the students gather at small tables, with a member of the staff presiding. Students and staff members rotate according to a prearranged schedule, enabling all to get better acquainted.
General Information

ADMISSION
All the Middlebury Language Schools are graduate schools. The courses require advanced preparation and advanced linguistic ability. A few outstanding undergraduate majors may be accepted if they have adequate preparation. Students may enter without examinations and without being candidates for degrees. All students are carefully screened and placed in the classes best suited to their advancement. Students are admitted for one summer only, and must reapply for any succeeding summer. Veterans should inquire about required documents and procedures.

ALUMNI ORGANIZATION
Amicale de Middlebury. This Association of Alumni, Professors, Students and Friends of the French School is designed to maintain the spirit of fellowship and comradeship among all those who have been associated with the School, or who approve of its aims; and to promote activities designed to further those aims. Particulars will be sent on request.

APPLICATION
Application materials (inside the back cover) accompany this catalog; please answer all questions on the application form as fully as possible. Attach continuation sheets, clearly marked, if necessary. Confidential statements from three teachers acquainted with the student and knowledgeable about his current command of French must be submitted on the forms provided.

CORRESPONDENCE
Correspondence (including inquiries about the Graduate School in France) concerning admission to the school, courses, credits, degrees, scholarships, self-help, rooms, fees, and the “Amicale” should be addressed to the Dean of the French Summer School, Sunderland Hall, Middlebury, Vermont 05753.
DATES AND ENROLLMENT PROCEDURES — 1971

The French School dormitories: le Château, Battell, and Hadley, will be open to receive students the evening of Thursday, July 1. The first meal served will be lunch on July 2. The French School will close after lunch on Thursday, August 19, and no students can be accommodated after that time.

Upon arrival, each student should report to le Château where registration will be held on Friday, July 2, and Saturday morning, July 3, 1971.

The formal opening of the School will be held on Sunday evening, July 4, and all students are expected to be present. Classes begin on Monday, July 5, and last through Friday, August 13. Final Examinations will be held from Saturday, August 14, through Wednesday, August 18, 1971.

FINANCIAL AID

Scholarships

A certain number of scholarships, usually covering part or all of the tuition fee, are awarded on the basis of need, merit, and scholastic promise. Grateful acknowledgement is made of the following special scholarships, made possible through the generosity of friends of the School:

Two James Richardson Scholarships, by Mrs. James Richardson of Providence, R. I.;
The Stella Christie Scholarship, by Mrs. C. C. Conover of Kansas City;
The Claude Lévy Scholarship, by The Boston-Cambridge Group of l'Alliance Française;
The Léa Binand Scholarship, established by Mrs. Robert Christie, of Montclair, N.J., in honor of a member of long standing of the French School and the Middlebury College French Department Faculties.

Five scholarships, by l'Amicale de Middlebury, three of which are named:
the Edith Packer Scholarship, in memory of a friend of long standing of the French School, one of the founders of l'Amicale;
the John D. Brennan Scholarship, in memory of one of the first members of l'Amicale, and the Vincent Guilloton Scholarship, in honor of the former Director of the School, now retired after fifteen years of devoted and successful service;

An unspecified number of scholarships, by the French Government;

Several scholarships by Middlebury College and by anonymous donors.

Self-Help
The only other way in which a student may assist in defraying his expenses is by waiting on table in the French dining hall, or by helping with kitchen work. Remuneration may vary, depending on the type of work done, but will, at least, cover board at the School.

Scholarship and Self-Help Applications
Application blanks for either form of financial aid may be obtained from the Dean's Office. They should be filed before March 15 in order to be considered for the first listing of awards. Announcement of awards is made soon after April first.

MAILING ADDRESS
Please inform all correspondents of the exact dates of the session and make certain that forwarding formalities are completed with the Post Office at the end of the session. Your address during the session will be:

French Summer School
Sunderland Language Center
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

AUDITING COURSES
A regularly enrolled student may audit a course without charge in any School with the permission of his Director and the Director of the School giving the course. For persons not enrolled, the fee for auditing a course is $50.00 per week or $175.00 for four or more weeks. Auditors are welcome to attend all classes, and may take an active part in the social events and extra-curricular activities of the School. They may be accommodated in the dormitory and dining hall of the School if space is available, and will be expected to abide by the language-of-the-School-only rule at all times when they are at the School.

AUTOMOBILES

Students are invited to bring their automobiles; parking space in the summer is limited and regulated. All drivers register their automobiles with Campus Security at the time of arrival and must adhere strictly to the driving and parking regulations of the College and the Town of Middlebury.

BAGGAGE

Baggage can be sent by REA Express or with the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines.

CAREER PLACEMENT

The Placement Office provides all Summer School students and alumni of Middlebury College with a central source of job information, and with personal counseling on career planning. Students should register with the Placement Office as soon as possible after their arrival.

COMMENCEMENT — 1971

Commencement exercises for those receiving degrees in the summer of 1971 will be held on Tuesday evening, August 17.

CREDITS

Unless otherwise stated in the section Course Loads, Credits and Prerequisites, all courses offer two credits at either the undergraduate or graduate level. Graduate credits earned (toward a degree) at Middlebury expire ten years after the date of course completion. Students wishing to transfer credits to another institution should consult the section below on Fees.
A qualified undergraduate may accumulate a maximum of twelve graduate credits toward a Middlebury M.A. before receipt of the B.A., or equivalent, and acceptance as a degree candidate.

Transfer of credits from another institution, to be counted toward a Middlebury advanced degree, should be sent to the Director as soon as a student has been accepted as a candidate or, if he is already a candidate, as soon as the study is completed. The Director of the School, in consultation with the Director of the Middlebury Language Schools, determines the number of transfer credits — if any — that are to be accepted toward Middlebury degrees for work done elsewhere. It is recommended, therefore, that students planning to request transfer of credits consult the Director of the individual School.

Transfer credits toward a Middlebury degree expire ten years after completion of the study if the degree has not been earned.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT

The campus of Middlebury College is especially suited to the Summer Language Schools and their approach to a unified language experience. Each School has separate residence halls and dining facilities where only the language being studied is spoken.

Wright Theatre is available to each School which presents plays, poetry readings, etc. Dana Auditorium is the setting for the presentation of more than fifty foreign films and over fifty guest lecturers during the summer.

The College Store handles sales of textbooks for all courses and has a wide collection of complementary texts and contemporary and classical readings in all languages. It also offers general study and personal supplies.

The College Library is available to all summer students — with stack privileges. To complement the Library collection, each School maintains a curriculum library of current texts, recordings, etc.

The Stephen A. Freeman Language Laboratory is shared by all of the Schools and students use it free of additional charge. Each sound-proof, air-conditioned, individual practice carrel includes a console combining two tape recording and playback machines, permitting the student to work individually and in a flexible manner on his own exercise, at his own preferred speed and time.

FEES
The administration reserves the right to make any changes without notice in courses, staff, living arrangements, etc. The following information about fees should be carefully noted.

Rates
Rates in all the Schools vary according to single or double occupancy of rooms. The inclusive fee for registration, tuition, board and room will be from $675 to $725. A student’s entire bill is payable upon receipt. Checks should be made payable to Middlebury College. Bills are mailed on May 1. Any student who cannot pay his bill in full by June 1 will be placed on a waiting list, and vacancies in each School will be filled as payment is received.

Registration Fee
Each accepted applicant must pay a $50 registration fee. This fee will be credited to the student’s total bill and an applicant is considered officially registered only when he has paid this fee. It is required of every student. No dormitory space is assigned until this fee is received. This fee will be refunded only if notice of cancellation is received before April 25; after April 25, no refund will be made.

Auditors
All courses in a School are open to auditing at any time without charge by members of that School, or by members of another of the Language Schools on permission of both the respective Directors. Visitors to Middlebury, not members of a School, may be permitted to enroll as auditors, on payment of the fee of $50 a week or $175 for four or more weeks, arrangements to be made in the office.
Enrollment in Two Schools

A student enrolled in one School may also enroll for credit in another School, on payment of an additional fee of $50 per course, if by reason of his proficiency, he receives the consent of the Directors of both Schools. This privilege is subject to the limitations of staff and space, and may not be available in certain heavily elected courses. Students interested in a particular course should inquire in advance.

Transcript Fees

One official transcript of a summer's work will be issued without charge on written request to the College Registrar. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each additional transcript. No transcripts will be issued or grades given to students financially indebted to the college, until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the office of the Cashier.

Refunds

Owing to fixed obligations for instruction and maintenance, persons arriving late or leaving school before the close of the session must not expect reimbursement of any charges. No allowances will be made for week-end absences.

GRADING

The passing grade in the Language Schools is 80 for graduate students, 70 for undergraduate students.

HEALTH SERVICES

A full-time physician, assisted by a registered nurse, holds regular office hours at the infirmary, and is on call at all times in case of emergency. This service is free to all enrolled students. When the nature of a student's illness requires the continued services of a doctor, hospitalization, or special medication, the student assumes all financial obligations involved, as his fees to the college do not cover them. The tuition fee does include an accident insurance policy with limited coverage. Special diets cannot be provided.
HOUSING — OFF-CAMPUS

Formal written permission must be obtained from the Director before students will be considered for off-campus living. Housing in Middlebury is very limited and the School is not able to undertake the task of securing furnished rooms or apartments in the village beyond sending a list of realtors and available addresses. The intensive nature of the program, together with the language pledge, make a session at the School incompatible with a family vacation and students are discouraged from having their families come to the Middlebury area for the summer.

LAUNDRY AND LINEN

Students must furnish their own linen. There is a linen-rental service available which will furnish sheets, pillowcase, and towels once a week. The dormitory is provided with a coin-operated automatic washer and dryer. Other arrangements for personal laundry may be made in the village after arrival. (See Rooms — Furnished.)

LOCATION OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Middlebury College, founded in 1800 and still one of the most charming of New England colleges, is located in a lovely Vermont countryside at the foot of the Green Mountains not far from Lake Champlain. The summer climate is delightful, and evenings tend to be cool. No college in the East offers more attractive opportunities for out-of-door recreation. The program of studies normally leaves late afternoons and week-ends free. Students frequently spend an afternoon hiking in the mountains or swimming at Lake Dunmore. Lake Champlain, Mount Mansfield, Ticonderoga, the Adirondacks, Lake Placid, or the White Mountains: all can be visited in a day’s trip.

PLEDGE

The sole medium of communication both inside and outside the classroom during the entire session is the language of the School. Students pledge themselves, upon arrival, to use the language exclusively while enrolled in the School. When a student pays his fee, he understands this requirement, is willing to sign an "Honor" agreement at the time of registration, and is willing to be governed by it throughout the session. Only the Director, or his designated assistant, may grant temporary release from the language pledge in cases which may warrant it. (An exception to the rules is made in certain reading assignments, since to restrict readings in such areas as literary criticism and methodology of teaching would be to seriously restrict access to major scholarship in these areas. Even in such cases, however, all discussion will be carried out in the language of the School.) The School may dismiss at any time and without refund any student who willfully breaks the language pledge.

It is requested that students not have subscriptions for English-language publications forwarded to their School address, nor should students bring with them radios, or phonograph records with lyrics not in the language of the School.

ROOMS — FURNISHED
All rooms in the dormitories are completely furnished, including pillows and blankets. Students must furnish their own linens, however.

The dormitories open for occupancy the evening of July 1, and close on August 19.

TRANSPORTATION
Middlebury is located halfway between Burlington and Rutland, Vermont. Students not arriving by automobile may make bus connections on the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines in New York City, Boston, Albany, Montreal or Burlington. Bus schedules will be provided on request. There is no railroad passenger service to Middlebury. There is scheduled air service to Burlington from Boston, New York City, Montreal, Albany, Bangor, Cleveland and Detroit.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT on:

Present address:

To the Reference: This person has applied for (admission) (financial aid) toward the summer session of the Middlebury French School, and the 19 ___-19 ___ academic year of the Middlebury Graduate School of French in France.

Your frank appraisal of the applicant, especially with regard to the following points, will be appreciated.

Note: A personal letter, on your own stationery, will be very much welcomed, whether you choose to send it in addition to, or in lieu of, this form. The same points should naturally be touched upon in your letter.

1. Under what circumstances, and how long, have you known applicant?

2. As you may know, the French School operates on the basic requirement that French be used at all times, and from the moment the student enrolls, and it will not admit students who could not live up to that requirement. How would you rate applicant's ability: ("poor, fair, good, very good, excellent")
   (a) to understand French when spoken at normal speed?
   (b) to understand lectures in French on literary and cultural topics?
   (c) to take significant notes at such lectures?
   (d) to express himself orally in French? — pronunciation? — correctness?
      — intonation? — fluency?
   (e) to write French, especially with respect to literary and cultural topics?

3. Academic preparation in French:
   (a) knowledge of French literature in general?
   (b) periods, areas, authors, better known?
   (c) knowledge of French history in general?
   (d) knowledge of today’s France?

4. Because the French School is essentially a graduate school, its students are all treated as mature, responsible adults (no ‘lights out, etc. . .’). How would you rate applicant’s emotional and intellectual qualifications to fit in such a ‘free’ atmosphere?

5. How would you rate applicant’s ability to ‘represent’ the United States while in France?

6. General personality:
   (a) Character?
   (b) Intelligence?
   (c) Cultural background?
   (d) Cooperativeness?
   (e) Initiative?
   (f) Adaptability to foreign environment?

7. Physical defects, mental or moral habits, likely to interfere?

8. Good points likely to make applicant a valued member of the School?

9. Further remarks (use back of sheet if necessary)

10. Are you personally acquainted with the French School and/or its methods?

Introduction

Middlebury College announces the fifty-fifth session of its Spanish Summer School, one of seven summer language schools which stand for mastery of the spoken and written language, and coordinated studies of the literature, culture and civilization of Hispanic countries.

Founded in 1917 by Professor Moreno-Lacalle, the Spanish School is one of the two oldest language schools at Middlebury. Since 1917 the faculty has included distinguished Hispanists such as Américo Castro, Samuel Gili Gaya, Jorge Guillén, Pedro Salinas, Angel del Río and Joaquín Casalduero. The uniqueness of Middlebury’s summer schools is in part due to recruitment of an eminent staff of international background, education, and teaching experience, representing a wide variety of interests in both Peninsular and Latin-American literature and civilization.

Because of the intensive nature of the program, the rigorous standards insisted upon, and the admission of students who are willing to use Spanish as the sole means of communication during the entire session, a summer in the Spanish School provides a context in which highly-motivated students can make greater progress in advancing their command of Spanish than is possible in other programs here in the United States or even in programs in a Spanish-speaking country. All aspects of the summer session — organization of course work, co-curricular activities, and daily living — are designed to give the student a unified learning experience.

In addition, the School offers separate courses and structured degree programs so that each student can realize his individual career and other personal aims.

The Middlebury Idea

The unifying feature of the “Middlebury method” has been the firm commitment of each student and staff member “to use only the language of the School during the entire session, wherever he may be.” This tradition has contributed significantly to both individual and group success in each School and willingness to maintain this tradition is a measure of any student’s motivation to take maximum advantage of the opportunity which the Schools offer.

Life in the School

ATMOSPHERE, ACTIVITIES

The School endeavors to make everything in the life of the student contribute as effectively and pleasantly as possible to his mastery of the language. Similarity of aims fosters an esprit de corps, while constant association between instructors, students and staff members brings intellectual stimulus and added opportunity for advancing language proficiency.

Co-curricular activities play an important part in the Middlebury way of mastering language, and students are encouraged to attend and participate in these activities.

The Spanish School has a particularly varied and rich program of activities scheduled for the summer of 1971; under the direction of Alfonso Gil, the theater workshop will produce a contemporary play. Students interested in music may participate in the choir or informal singing of traditional (medieval) and folk songs of Hispanic countries under the direction of Mr. Núñez. Students are encouraged to bring musical instruments with them. There will be many opportunities for informal talks and tertulias with the faculty and fellow students. In addition, there will be concerts, films and lectures.
LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

All students are expected to live in the Spanish dormitories, Gifford and Hepburn, and to take their meals with the staff members in Proctor Hall. Gifford and Hepburn have single, double, and triple rooms which are assigned in the order of receipt of the registration fee. A limited number of rooms are available for married couples where both husband and wife are accepted in the School. Permission to live off campus is given — rarely — to a student with a native command of Spanish or with a Spanish spouse. But even these exceptions are not allowed first-year students.

Curriculum

INTRODUCTION

The curriculum of the Middlebury Language Schools is designed to respond to the aims of the individual student. The Spanish School has very few prerequisites and requirements so that a student may pursue studies in his field of interest, including specialization in one of the four basic areas: language and linguistics, civilization and culture, literature, or professional preparation. Each student will be given personal advice in designing his program at registration time.

The leadership of the Spanish School has been reorganized around a Graduate Spanish Committee. All members of the graduate committee will be on campus during the summer to advise individual students. They will also be in close consultation with students in order to plan a new long-range curriculum for the School. Each student’s comments, observations, and ideas will be appreciated.

COURSE LOADS, CREDITS, AND PREREQUISITES

A normal course load is 9 credits; however, a student may request permission to take less than a normal course load.

Three semester hours of credit are awarded for each course except for course 1 (Advanced Spanish Language) for which 6 credits are awarded.

Two prerequisites are designed to help maintain a high level of instruction in the School:

1. All undergraduates and first year prospective M.A. candidates are normally required to register for course #1.

2. Only advanced degree candidates may enroll in courses in the 300 series.
Assignment of instructors to courses is subject to change and courses may be cancelled for lack of sufficient registration.

As an aid to students who may wish to bring some of their own books with them and those who wish to do preliminary reading, we list basic readings and materials for courses. These must be considered tentative and are subject to change if cited items prove to be unavailable.

LANGUAGE AND LINGUISTICS

1. Advanced Spanish Language

Objectives: This course is designed to help the student develop his ability to express himself accurately and sensitively on a wide variety of subjects in both oral and written Spanish. Procedures and content: The course will meet daily (Monday-Friday) for two hours in sections of approximately 10 students each. Class time will be devoted to beginning compositions, oral discussion of subjects treated in the compositions, and occasional discussion of grammatical and stylistic questions. Each student will be expected to write 12 essays of 400-800 words each. Compositions will be thoroughly corrected and annotated by the instructor. The student will then be required to revise the original essay, incorporating all necessary changes in the final copy. The student is urged to bring with him his own all-Spanish dictionary. The dictionary we suggest is Diccionario ideológico de la lengua española by Julio Casares, segunda edición 1953, Editorial Gustavo Gili, Barcelona.

15. Linguistics

Objectives and Content: During the first three weeks this course will deal with the basic principles of modern linguistics with which a student and teacher of language and literature must be familiar. The second half of the course will consist of three one-week segments, each devoted to a detailed consideration of a specific Spanish topic: (1) The morphology of the Spanish verb and the use of the tenses; (2) The morphology of modern Spanish lexicon, and (3) The phonology of modern Spanish. Procedures: The medium of instruction and discussion will be Spanish. The course will meet for three one-hour lectures on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and in small sections for one hour each on Tuesday and Thursday. Suggested Preparation: The student is encouraged to work his way through Professor Green's programmed text on Spanish Phonology.

Textbooks:

(1) (A basic introductory text to linguistics in Spanish; not yet selected).
(2) Spanish Phonology for Teachers, A Programmed Introduction, by Jerald R. Green, published by The Center for Curriculum Development Inc., 401 Walnut St., Philadelphia, PA 19106; list price $3.60.
(3) (Various articles, etc., reproduced from journals and books.)

Credits: Three.

CIVILIZATION AND CULTURE

50. Spanish-American Culture and Civilization

Objectives and Content: The course will study the main current of cultural development in Spanish America, with emphasis on Mexico and Argentina. Representative readings from the works of anthropologists and essayists will be supplemented by lectures and discussions, and presentation of related cultural materials on film, slides, tapes, records, etc. Procedures: The course will meet three times a week for one-hour lectures, and once a week for an hour in small groups for discussion. Suggested Preparation: Prospective students should do preliminary reading in the books by Arrom and Wolf listed below.

Textbooks:

Credits: Three.
60. Spanish Civilization and Culture

Objectives and Content: This course will examine the most significant aspects of the history of Spanish culture in relation to the character of modern Spain. The reading assignments will be complemented by films, slides, tapes and records. Procedure: The course will meet three times a week for one-hour lectures, and once a week for an hour in small discussion sections. Suggested Preparation: Students should read Menéndez-Pidal and Díaz-Plaja in preparation for the first day of class.

Textbooks:

Credits: Three.

70. Theater Workshop

Objectives and Content: The central theme of this workshop will be "Man of our time in the theatre of Spain and Latin America." All the readings will be of contemporary Hispanic plays. Each student is expected to participate in the production of a play; he will define the nature of his participation (stage manager, lighting technician, set designer, etc.) in consultation with the instructor. Procedures: The workshop will meet three times a week in a large group for intensive study of the central topic and of the specific play to be presented. In addition, the instructor will meet frequently with the students in specialized groups: that is, actors, technicians, etc. Suggested Preparation: The student is encouraged to become familiar with contemporary theater by reading in the following references: Martin Esslin, El teatro del absurdo, Seix y Barral, 1966. Agustín del Saz, Teatro social hispanoamericano, Ed. Labor, Barcelona, 1967. Jose María de Quinto, La tragedia y el hombre, Seix y Barral, 1963. Francisco García Pavón, El teatro social en España, Ed. Taurus, Madrid, 1962.

LITERATURE

All classes will meet daily (Monday — Friday) for an hour unless otherwise specified.

100. Approaches to Literary Theory

This course is an introduction to literary theory, not a historical survey. The course will examine contemporary attempts to answer the question of the nature of literature and its relationship to other art forms and to other disciplines such as psychology, history, etc. Discussion of critical methodologies and of such problems as popular literature, the use of literature as a source for the understanding of a social group, the theory of genres, literary generations, etc. The class will meet for two large-group lectures and three discussion meetings per week. The required text is Welleck and Warren's Teoría literaria, but students are urged to familiarize themselves with the work of Langer, Frye and Fergusson; the MLA publication Relations of literary study, Scott's Five Approaches of Literary Criticism or similar works. Students should all have read Crews' The Pooh Perplex before the course begins. The course is required of all students enrolled in the Madrid program.

Textbook:
Wellek and Warren, Teoría literaria, Gredos.
Dauster, Giordano, Álvarez Morales, Snaidas

200. Twentieth Century Spanish-American Theater

This course studies the works of the leading dramatists from Florencio Sánchez and platense naturalism to the avantgarde, with particular emphasis on the period since World War II. It will begin with a discussion of dramatic theory based on Fergusson's Idea of a Theater, and the emphasis throughout will be on analysis of the works as theater.

205. Forms of Medieval Literature
This intensive survey of the principal forms of medieval Spanish literature includes, but is not limited to, the study of the mester de clerecía, mester de juglaría, moral-satirical poetry, the Galician lyric, moral-didactic prose, chivalric prose and historical writings. Required readings will consist of duplicated materials to be made available to the students.

Flори

210. The Novel of the Generation of 1898
This course consists of intensive reading of representative novels of this generation of crisis. The works will be studied as valid in themselves and in their relations with the artistic and moral concerns of the movement.

Textbooks:

215. Form and Meaning of the “Quijote”
This course will be devoted exclusively to the study of the first part of the Quijote. One or two chapters will be read each day and will serve as a basis for lectures and discussions. The main purpose of the course will be to apprehend the meaning of the novel through a detailed study of its form.

Textbooks:

220. Two Fourteenth Century Masterpieces: “El libro de buen amor” and “El Conde Lucanor”
These nearly contemporary but widely dissimilar works in addition to their literary value, provide the student with a key for examining the vital duality, spiritual and worldly, of the medieval Spanish mind.
225. Contemporary Spanish-American Novel

The course will examine eight contemporary novels in the light of their formal and thematic characteristics, and the place of the authors within the recent boom of the New Novel.

Textbooks:

DEGREE PROGRAMS

Middlebury College offers programs for two advanced degrees through the Spanish School:

The Middlebury Master of Arts degree requires an approved program of thirty semester hours of credit, of which twenty must be earned in residence. At least twenty credits must be earned in the area of the major language and ten may be earned in closely related subjects approved by the Dean or Assistant Dean.

The Middlebury Doctor of Modern Languages degree is a very demanding degree with special requirements. Information about this degree is detailed in a special brochure available on request from the Spanish School.

Admission to candidacy for an advanced degree in the Middlebury Spanish School is contingent on two requirements:
1. Satisfactory completion of at least one summer in the School.
2. Proof of possession of a B.A. degree from an accredited institution, or equivalent. A student's admission to a degree program will be terminated at the end of any summer if his performance for that summer has been marginal.

Planning a degree program will be done individually by each student in consultation with the Deans or a member of the Graduate Spanish Committee. Each will have a balanced program which builds on the major areas of the curriculum: Language and Linguistics; Literature; Culture and Civilization; Professional Preparation.

All students intending to teach should include at least one course from the area of Professional Preparation.

Candidates for the M.A. degree accepted prior to 1971 are asked to consult with the Dean or Assistant Dean during the summer to review their programs.
General Information

ADMISSION
The Spanish School is primarily a graduate school and all courses offered give graduate credit. However, the School welcomes applications from advanced undergraduate students.

There is no fixed program of undergraduate study required for admission to the Spanish School. The quality of the applicant's undergraduate performance, especially in the last two years, is the factor of primary importance in admission decisions. Normally, the minimum requirement is a major in Spanish with no grade below B in major courses.

Students are admitted for one summer only, and must reapply for any succeeding summer. The School reserves the right to refuse readmission to any students whose performance at Middlebury is marginal.

APPLICATION
Application materials accompany this catalog; please answer all questions on the application form as fully as possible. If you have studied Spanish at a college or university other than your home institution, please attach a list of courses, dates, and institutions to your applications form.

All applicants should request 3 confidential letters of recommendations, at least 2 of which must be from Spanish professors with whom they have studied recently. The letters should be sent directly by the professors to the Spanish School.

Official transcripts of all academic work above the secondary level must also be sent.

Graduate Record Examination scores are not required, but if an applicant has taken the examination, he should have his score forwarded to the Spanish School.

Students are never accepted for portions of a session. However, students who are not members of one of the schools may be permitted to enroll as auditors. (See below)

While it may be possible to admit students to the Spanish School as late as April or May, it is advisable to submit all application materials as early as possible (and applications involving financial aid must be received no later than March 15).

CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE SPANISH SCHOOL

Correspondence concerning admission to the School, courses, fees, etc., should be addressed to:

The Spanish School
Sunderland Language Center
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

DATES AND ENROLLMENT PROCEDURES — 1971

The Spanish School dormitories, Gifford and Hepburn, will be open to receive students the evening of Thursday, July 1. The first meal served will be lunch on July 2. The Spanish School will close after lunch on Thursday, August 19, and no students can be accommodated after that time.

Upon arrival, each student should report to the lounge upstairs in Proctor Hall where registration will be held on Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3.

The formal opening of the School will be held on Sunday evening, July 4, and all students are expected to be present. Classes begin on Monday, July 5, and last through Friday, August 13. Final examinations will be held from Saturday, August 14, through Wednesday, August 18.

FINANCIAL AID

The Language Schools of Middlebury College offer several types of financial aid:
1. Tuition remission scholarships (partial or total).
2. Tuition, board, and room scholarships.
3. Work scholarships of differing amounts; work may be in kitchens, dining rooms, mail courier service, etc.

There is one special scholarship offered by the Spanish School:

The Juan A. Centeno Memorial Scholarship was established in the summer of 1949 by the students and faculty of the Middlebury Spanish Summer School, in memory of the beloved teacher who was Director of the School for fifteen years. The fund is still growing, and further contributions will be gladly received.

Requests for financial aid forms should be made to the School immediately. Application forms for financial aid and supporting documents must be received no later than March 15. Awards of financial aid will be announced about April 1.

_Cautions:_
1. Do not wait until admitted to the School to request aid.
2. The demand for aid is great; do not count on receiving both a scholarship and work.
3. Work other than work scholarships is not possible because of the intensive, full-time nature of the program.

MAILING ADDRESS
Please inform all correspondents of the exact dates of the session and make certain that forwarding formalities are completed with the Post Office at the end of the session. Your address during the session will be:

Spanish Summer School
Sunderland Language Center
Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt. 05753

AUDITING COURSES
A regularly enrolled student may audit a course without charge in any School with the permission of his Director and the Director of the School giving the course. For persons not enrolled, the fee for auditing a course is $50.00 per week or $175.00 for four or more weeks. Auditors are welcome to attend all classes, and may take an active part in the social events and extra-curricular activities of the School. They may be accommodated in the dormitory and dining hall of the School if space is available, and will be expected to abide by the language-of-the-School-only rule at all times when they are at the School.

AUTOMOBILES
Students are invited to bring their automobiles; parking space in the summer is limited and regulated. All drivers register their automobiles with Campus Security at the time of arrival and must adhere strictly to the driving and parking regulations of the College and the Town of Middlebury.

BAGGAGE
Baggage can be sent by REA Express or with the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines.

CAREER PLACEMENT
The Placement Office provides all Summer School students and alumni of Middlebury College with a central source of job information, and with personal counseling on career planning. Students should register with the Placement Office as soon as possible after their arrival.

COMMENCEMENT — 1971
Commencement exercises for those receiving degrees in the summer of 1971 will be held on Tuesday evening, August 17.

CREDITS
Unless otherwise stated in the section Course Loads, Credits and Prerequisites, all courses offer two credits at either the undergraduate or graduate level. Graduate credits earned (toward a degree) at Middlebury expire ten years after the date of course completion. Students wishing to transfer credits to another institution should consult the section below on Fees.

A qualified undergraduate may accumulate a maximum of twelve graduate credits toward a Middlebury M.A. before receipt of the B.A., or equivalent, and acceptance as a degree candidate.

Transfer of credits from another institution, to be counted toward a Middlebury advanced degree, should be sent to the Director as soon as a student has been accepted as a candidate or, if he is already a candidate, as soon as the study is completed. The Director of the School, in consultation with the Director of the Middlebury Language Schools, determines the number of transfer credits — if any — that are to be accepted toward Middlebury degrees for work done elsewhere. It is recommended, therefore, that students planning to request transfer of credits consult the Director of the individual School.

Transfer credits toward a Middlebury degree expire ten years after completion of the study if the degree has not been earned.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT
The campus of Middlebury College is especially suited to the Summer Language Schools and their approach to a unified language experience. Each School has separate residence halls and dining facilities where only the language being studied is spoken.

Wright Theatre is available to each School which presents plays, poetry readings, etc. Dana Auditorium is the setting for the presentation of more than fifty foreign films and over fifty guest lecturers during the summer.

The College Store handles sales of textbooks for all courses and has a wide collection of complementary texts and contemporary and classical readings in all languages. It also offers general study and personal supplies.

The College Library is available to all summer students — with stack privileges. To complement the Library collection, each School maintains a curriculum library of current texts, recordings, etc.

The Stephen A. Freeman Language Laboratory is shared by all of the Schools and students use it free of additional charge. Each sound-proof, air-conditioned, individual practice carrel includes a console combining two tape recording and playback machines, permitting the student to work individually and in a flexible manner on his own exercise, at his own preferred speed and time.

FEES
The administration reserves the right to make changes without notice in courses, staff, living arrangements, etc. The following information about fees should be carefully noted.
Rates
Rates in all the Schools vary according to single or double occupancy of rooms. The inclusive fee for registration, tuition, board and room will be from $675 to $725. A student’s entire bill is payable upon receipt. Checks should be made payable to Middlebury College. Bills are mailed on May 1. Any student who cannot pay his bill in full by June 1 will be placed on a waiting list, and vacancies in each School will be filled as payment is received.

Registration Fee
Each accepted applicant must pay a $50 registration fee. This fee will be credited to the student’s total bill and an applicant is considered officially registered only when he has paid this fee. It is required of every student. No dormitory space is assigned until this fee is received. This fee will be refunded only if notice of cancellation is received before April 25; after April 25, no refund will be made.

Auditors
All courses in a School are open to auditing at any time without charge by members of that School, or by members of another of the Language Schools on permission of both the respective Directors. Visitors to Middlebury, not members of a School, may be permitted to enroll as auditors, on payment of the fee of $50 a week or $175 for four or more weeks, arrangements to be made in the office.

Enrollment in Two Schools
A student enrolled in one School may also enroll for credit in another School, on payment of an additional fee of $50 per course, if by reason of his proficiency, he receives the consent of the Directors of both Schools. This privilege is subject to the limitations of staff and space, and may not be available in certain heavily elected courses. Students interested in a particular course should inquire in advance.

Transcript Fees
One official transcript of a summer’s work will be issued without charge on written request to the College Registrar. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each additional transcript. No transcripts will be issued or grades given to students financially indebted to the college, until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the office of the Cashier.

Refunds
Owing to fixed obligations for instruction and maintenance, persons arriving late or leaving school before the close of the session must not expect reimbursement of any charges. No allowances will be made for week-end absences.

GRADING
The passing grade in the Language Schools is 80 for graduate students, 70 for undergraduate students.

HEALTH SERVICES
A full-time physician, assisted by a registered nurse, holds regular office hours at the infirmary, and is on call at all times in case of emergency. This service is free to all enrolled students. When the nature of a student’s illness requires the continued services of a doctor, hospitalization, or special medication, the student assumes all financial obligations involved, as his fees to the college do not cover them. The tuition fee does include an accident insurance policy with limited coverage. Special diets cannot be provided.

HOUSING — OFF-CAMPUS
Formal written permission must be obtained from the Director before students will be considered for off-campus living. Housing in Middlebury is very limited and the School is not able to undertake the task of securing furnished rooms or apartments in the village beyond sending a list of realtors and available addresses. The intensive nature of the program, together with the language pledge, make a session at the School incompatible with a family vacation and students are discouraged from having their families come to the Middlebury area for the summer.
LAUNDRY AND LINEN

Students must furnish their own linen. There is a linen-rental service available which will furnish sheets, pillowcase, and towels once a week. The dormitory is provided with a coin-operated automatic washer and dryer. Other arrangements for personal laundry may be made in the village after arrival. (See Rooms — Furnished.)

LOCATION OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Middlebury College, founded in 1800 and still one of the most charming of New England colleges, is located in a lovely Vermont countryside at the foot of the Green Mountains not far from Lake Champlain. The summer climate is delightful, and evenings tend to be cool. No college in the East offers more attractive opportunities for out-of-door recreation. The program of studies normally leaves late afternoons and week-ends free. Students frequently spend an afternoon hiking in the mountains or swimming at Lake Dunmore. Lake Champlain, Mount Mansfield, Ticonderoga, the Adirondacks, Lake Placid, or the White Mountains: all can be visited in a day’s trip.

PLEDGE

The sole medium of communication both inside and outside the classroom during the entire session is the language of the School. Students pledge themselves, upon arrival, to use the language exclusively while enrolled in the School. When a student pays his fee, he understands this requirement, is willing to sign an “Honor” agreement at the time of registration, and is willing to be governed by it throughout the session. Only the Director, or his designated assistant, may grant temporary release from the language pledge in cases which may warrant it. (An exception to the rule is made in certain reading assignments, since to restrict readings in such areas as literary criticism and methodology of teaching would be to seriously restrict access to major scholarship in these areas. Even in such cases, however, all discussion will be carried out in the language of the School.) The School may dismiss at any time and without refund any student who willfully breaks the language pledge.

It is requested that students not have subscriptions for English-language publications forwarded to their School address, nor should students bring with them radios, or phonograph records with lyrics not in the language of the School.

ROOMS — FURNISHED
All rooms in the dormitories are completely furnished, including pillows and blankets. Students must furnish their own linens, however.

TRANSPORTATION
Middlebury is located halfway between Burlington and Rutland, Vermont. Students not arriving by automobile may make bus connections on the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines in New York City, Boston, Albany, Montreal or Burlington. Bus schedules will be provided on request. There is no railroad passenger service to Middlebury. There is scheduled air service to Burlington from Boston, New York City, Montreal, Albany, Bangor, Cleveland and Detroit.

GRADUATE LANGUAGE COUNCIL

Purpose: The Graduate Language Council makes recommendations for the Language Schools (domestic and foreign) and coordinates the programs of these Schools with the undergraduate programs in concert with the general educational policy of the College. In addition, the Council serves as a body advisory to the President and the Director of the Language Schools.

Composition: The Middlebury College Graduate Language Council is composed of the following:

James I. Armstrong, President of the College, Chairman
Paul M. Cubeta, Academic Vice President of the College
F. André Paquette, Director of the Language Schools
M. Kimberly Sparks, Chairman of the Division of Foreign Languages
T. Richardson Miner, Jr., Assistant to the President, Recorder
Introduction

The Middlebury College Italian Summer School, one of seven Middlebury summer foreign language schools, rounds out, with the 1971 session, four decades of activities whose aims have always been to give a mastery of spoken and written Italian, and a coordinated knowledge of the life, institutions, literature, history, and culture of Italy. This is accomplished through a curriculum containing courses offered on a rotation basis, the recruitment of faculty members with international training and teaching experience, the exclusive use of Italian throughout the session, and the existence of a spirit of good fellowship between faculty and student body, in the classroom, in the dining hall and in extracurricular activities.

The Italian School was founded in 1932 by Dr. Gabriella Bosano. Dr. Camillo P. Merlino, Professor Emeritus of Boston University, was its Director, beginning with the 1938 session. Since 1947, Dr. Salvatore J. Castiglione, Jean Thomson Fulton Professor of Italian at Middlebury College, has been the Director.

The Italian School announces with pleasure that the Visiting Professors for the 1971 session will be Professor Ruggero Stefanini, of the University of California at Berkeley, who was Visiting Professor during the 1967 session, and Professor Enrico Fubini, who holds the Chair of the History of Music at the Facoltà di Magistero of the University of Cagliari. The staff will include returning faculty members Clavio Ascari, Pierina Castiglione, Iole Magri, Mario Moffa and Anna Nolfi. Professor Stefanini will give the course on Dante and a course on Dialectology and Professor Fubini will offer courses on The Forms of Italian Instrumental Music (1700-1750) and on Aesthetics and Music Criticism in Italy in the 20th Century. Other courses of special interest will be The Teaching of Italian, Cesare Pavese and The Novella.
Dr. Paolo Cella, an authority in the field of economics, who taught at the Italian School during the 1948 session, will come especially from Milan to give two weeks of afternoon lectures in the July 25-August 7 period on the following topics: 1) "L'economia italiana dalla 2ª Guerra Mondiale" and 2) "Stato e politica in Italia negli anni settanta."

Scholarships available for the 1971 session include three AMISA Scholarships offered by the Association of Middlebury Italian School Alumni, five scholarships offered by Dr. Nicholas Locascio, and several Cesare Barbieri partial-tuition scholarships.

The twenty-first annual summer meeting of AMISA will be held in Middlebury, July 16-18.

The Middlebury Idea

It is a cherished and unique tradition of the Middlebury College Language Schools, and a fundamental of the Middlebury method that a student will be admitted to a school only if he is able and willing to use exclusively the language of the school during the entire session, wherever he may be.

ATMOSPHERE, ACTIVITIES
The School endeavors to make everything in the life of a student during his stay contribute as effectively and as pleasantly as possible to the mastery of Italian. Similarity of aim among students fosters good comradeship and an esprit de corps; while constant association with instructors at the dining tables, in extracurricular activities, no less than in the classroom, brings intellectual stimulus. The life of the School is enriched by lectures, readings, concerts, informal sings, films, dramatics, outings and sports.

An outstanding feature of the 1971 session is the special series of lectures to be given by Dr. Paolo Cella during the fourth and fifth weeks. These lectures should be of unusual interest to all Italian School students, and should attract particularly those who wish to become better acquainted with the economic and political situation of contemporary Italy. They have therefore been scheduled for an afternoon hour that will permit maximum student attendance.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS
All students are expected to live in the School’s dormitory, Forest Hall, residence of the majority of the faculty members. All rooms in Forest Hall are single. Since students who live in town fail to derive full benefit from the Middlebury experience, those seeking permission from the Director to live off campus should have a valid reason to support their request.
Curriculum

Note: Each course except the undergraduate level course on Intermediate Grammar and Composition carries two semester hours of graduate credit.

The Advanced Grammar and Composition course and the Stylistics course may be taken twice for credit, as the material of these courses varies each year. The course on Dante and His Times may be taken three times for credit, once on the Inferno, once on the Purgatorio, and once on the Paradiso.

It is planned to offer the following courses regularly each year:

Intermediate Grammar and Composition
Advanced Grammar and Composition
Advanced Oral Practice and Self-Expression
Phonetics and Phonemics
Stylistics: Techniques of Translation and Interpretation
The Teaching of Italian
Dante and His Times
Research

It is expected that the 1972 curriculum will include courses on Italian civilization, on Italian art, on the literature of the Cinquecento, and on the Contemporary Italian Novel; and that the 1973 curriculum will include a History of the Italian Language course, a course on Italian civilization, courses on Italian literature of the 17th century, and courses on Italian history.

PLACEMENT
At registration time each student will, in consultation with the Director, choose courses which can help him most in improving his control of the Italian language and/or relate best to his comprehensive program of study, particularly if he is a candidate for a Middlebury College advanced degree in Italian. On the opening day of classes all first-year Scuola Estiva students who are enrolled in Courses 1, 2 and 6 will take a written placement test. First-year students who have pronunciation difficulties will be asked to enroll in Course 5.
1971 Program of Studies

I. LANGUAGE AND LINGUISTICS

1. Intermediate Grammar and Composition  8:00
A thorough review of the structure of the language; vocabulary building; written and oral practice, including free composition. This course aims to impart a reasonable degree of proficiency in spoken and written Italian. (Undergraduate credit only)

Textbook:
B. Migliorini, La lingua nazionale, Le Monnier, Firenze.

Signor Moffa

2. Advanced Grammar and Composition  9:00
An advanced course for students possessing a good knowledge of Italian. It will consist of translations from English to Italian of texts of increasing difficulty, and practice in original composition. Frequent reference will be made to grammar and syntax in the systematic study of idioms.

Textbook:

Signora Magri

4. Advanced Oral Practice and Self-Expression  8:00
Intensive training in oral practice, public speaking and self-expression. A detailed program arranged for each hour; prepared discussion on assigned subjects, with definite vocabulary preparation; short debates; oral reports, oral criticism of books and articles.

Signora Magri

5. Phonetics and Phonemics  10:00
An intensive study of the Italian phonetic system, directed toward solving the problems that usually face both the learner and the teacher of Italian. Special attention will be given to the proper recognition and reproduction of Italian sounds, to the analysis of Italian phonemes, to word stress, and to the intonation of the Italian phrase. Extensive use will be made of recordings.
Textbook:

Signora Castiglione

6. Stylistics: Techniques of Translation and Interpretation 9:00
This course is designed to meet, through the analysis of carefully chosen texts and the writing of compositions, the needs of students who already have a high degree of proficiency in Italian. It aims to help students gain command of Italian at various levels of speaking and writing.

Textbook:

Signor Ascari

7. Dialectology 10:00
After a rapid and comprehensive review of the Romance world, the course will turn to a study of l'Italia dialettale and to determining its linguistic areas and characteristics. An examination will be made of the problem of the relationship between language and dialect in present day Italian. Through a careful reading of various texts in dialect the student will achieve not only a more extensive and more meaningful acquaintance with the dialects but also a stronger control of the Italian language, at the same time enriching and refining both his vocabulary and his knowledge of morphology and syntax.

Mimeographed materials to be used in this course will be distributed as needed.

Signor Stefanini

II. METHODS OF TEACHING

10. The Teaching of Italian 11:00
A study and discussion of aims, methods and techniques used in the teaching of Italian at the secondary and college levels; examinations of textbooks and audio-visual materials; integration of laboratory work with classroom instruction; assembling of materials for testing and evaluation.

Textbook:

Signora Nolfi

III. LITERATURE AND CIVILIZATION

14. Dante and His Times (The Purgatorio) 8:00
The second cantica of the Divina Commedia will be examined, first in the context of the entire poem and then in its internal structure. Attention will be focused on those passages of the Purgatorio which are poetically most valid and/or structurally most significant. The widest possible consideration will be given to the illuminating background of the allegorico-didactic literature of the 13th century. Students will be encouraged to take part in periodic discussions.

Textbook:
Dante, Divina Commedia (Purgatorio), with commentary by Sapegno.

Signor Stefanini

15. The Development of Italian Poetry

10:00

A study of the main currents of Italian poetry, from the Duecento to contemporary times; brief consideration of the nature and techniques of Italian poetry; analysis of some of its most significant examples.

Textbook:
Penguin Book of Italian Verse.

Signor Moffa

16. Cesare Pavese

11:00

A study of the human and literary personality of Cesare Pavese, one of the most fascinating writers of modern Italy, through his works and diaries. Discussions and reports.

Readings:
Cesare Pavese, La bella estate, Prima che il gallo canti, Dialoghi con Leucò, Feria d'agosto, Il diavolo sulle colline.

Signor Ascari

17. The Novella

12:00

A detailed study will be made of Boccaccio and Bandello as storytellers, and their short stories will be analyzed from the point of view of construction, language, characterization, plot, etc. Through the examination of these works the student will obtain a composite picture of the political, economic and social life and of the customs in Italy from the 14th through the 16th centuries, and will perhaps derive some lessons that may be applied to the present era. Special attention will be given to the position of women in the Italian society of Boccaccio’s and Bandello’s times.

Textbooks:

Signora Castiglione
18. The Forms of Italian Instrumental Music (1700-1750)
11:00

The development of instruments and instrumental forms at the end of the 17th century; the suite and the forms of the dance; the sonata a tre and its structure; the instrumental schools in Italy: Naples, Venice, Bologna, Florence, Rome, Turin, etc.; the baroque concerto; the solo concerto and the concerto grosso; the most representative composers: Corelli, Geminiani, Marcello, Vivaldi, Tartini, Scarlatti, etc.; the beginnings of the Forma sonata.

Textbooks:

19. Aesthetics and Music Criticism
12:00

in Italy in the 20th Century

Between positivism and idealism; Torrefranca; Croce and Gentile; the influence of the aesthetics of idealism on music criticism; the Rassegna Musicale; the Crocean music critics: Parente, Ronga, Pannain, etc.; the problem of music interpretation: Pagliatti and Parente; the reaction of music criticism to dodecaphonic music; the new generation: Mila, Rognoni, Dallapiccola; the crisis of aesthetics and of idealistic culture; music criticism and literary criticism: the debate over genres; present day trends in music criticism and in the historiography of music.

Textbooks:

20. Research

All students, especially candidates for the doctorate who are working on a problem of research, are invited to profit by the individual guidance offered by the school staff. Consultations will be arranged through the Director. Such assistance is gladly offered, and students are urged to take advantage of it.

Signor Castiglione and Staff
THE MASTER'S DEGREE
A student who wishes to become a candidate for an advanced degree at Middlebury College must apply for it, submitting the necessary documents, including proof of an acceptable A.B. degree or its equivalent. Enrollment in the Italian School or the passing of graduate courses in it does not constitute acceptance as a candidate for a degree. The student is admitted to candidacy for this degree only after the successful completion of at least one summer in the School. The Master's degree in Italian requires an approved program of thirty credits, of which twenty must be earned in residence. Transcripts submitted for transfer of credit should be sent to the school before the opening of the session, and prior approval of the study should be secured when possible. Transfer credits expire ten years after the date of the completion of the study. Graduate credits earned at Middlebury College also expire ten years after the date of the completion of the study. Twenty credits must be earned in the major language; ten may be earned in closely related subjects approved by the Director.

A program of study consists, on the average, of three courses. Students with special qualifications may be permitted to enroll in four courses, yielding eight graduate credits, but not more than four; permission of the Director is required.

THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MODERN LANGUAGES
Middlebury College also offers, through the Italian School, the advanced degree of Doctor of Modern Languages. A brochure containing detailed information about the requirements will be sent by the Director on request.
GENERAL INFORMATION

ADMISSION
The Italian School is essentially a graduate school. Students applying for admission should have sound preparation and a considerable degree of linguistic ability. Undergraduate majors are accepted if they have adequate preparation. Students may enter without examinations and without being candidates for degrees. They are admitted for one summer only, and must reapply for any succeeding summer.

ALUMNI ORGANIZATION — AMISA
Membership in the Association of Middlebury Italian School Alumni, established in 1950, is open to students, past and present, faculty members and friends of the Italian School. The aims of the Association are “to encourage and advance, culturally and materially, the Italian School,” to keep its members informed of the activities of the School and its students, and to maintain the spirit of cordiality which the members associate with the Italian School. The nominal yearly dues paid to the Association are used almost exclusively for scholarships that are awarded to deserving students. The Association has also made several special gifts of books to Middlebury College through the Italian School. The Italian School is extremely grateful to AMISA for the tangible proof it has so frequently given of its warm support for the Middlebury program of Italian studies. In addition to its annual winter meeting the Association holds a summer reunion on the Middlebury campus, at the end of the second full week of the Italian School session, and encourages the scheduling of regional meetings by interested members.

APPLICATION
An application form is included in this bulletin. It is suggested that the candidate supply all the information requested on this form and that he submit any official transcripts, letters of recommendation or other documents that may support his application for admission to the Italian School. Although applicants may be admitted to the School even as late as June, provided that dormitory space is available, they are advised to submit their applications early. Applications for financial aid must be received no later than March 15. An application for financial aid can be considered only if the applicant has been admitted to the School.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE ITALIAN SCHOOL
Correspondence concerning admission to the School, courses, fees, etc., should be addressed to:

Secretary of the Italian School
Sunderland Language Center
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

DATES AND ENROLLMENT PROCEDURES — 1971
Forest Hall, the Italian School dormitory, will open to receive students the evening of Thursday, July 1. The first meal served in the School’s dining hall will be lunch on July 2. Forest Hall will close after lunch on Thursday, August 19, and no one can be accommodated after that time.

Registration will be held in 221-222 Sunderland Language Center on Friday, July 2, and Saturday, July 3.

The formal opening of the School will be held on Sunday evening, July 4. All students are expected to be present.

Classes begin on Monday, July 5, and end on Friday, August 13. Final examinations will be held from Saturday, August 14, through Tuesday, August 17.

DIRECTOR’S OFFICE
The Director’s Office is located in 221-222 Sunderland Language Center. The telephone number is 802-388-7996.
FINANCIAL AID

The Language Schools of Middlebury College offer several forms of financial aid.
1. Tuition remission scholarships (partial or total).
2. Tuition, board, and room scholarships.
3. Work scholarships of differing amounts; work may be in kitchens, dining rooms, mail carrier service, etc.

Grateful acknowledgement is made of the following special scholarships for the 1971 session, made possible through the generosity of friends of the Italian School:

The Italian Teachers’ Club of Hartford, Connecticut, Scholarship, offered for the thirty-second consecutive year.

Three AMISA Scholarships, given by the Association of Middlebury Italian School Alumni. One of these is offered in honor of Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, Director Emeritus of the Middlebury College Language Schools, one is offered in memory of the late Evelyn Belli, and another in memory of the late Suzanne Divine Cahill.

Five scholarships offered by Dr. Nicholas Locascio, of New York City.

A number of Cesare Barbieri partial-tuition scholarships, made possible by a gift from the Cesare Barbieri Endowment.

A scholarship offered anonymously by two long-time friends of the School.

Applications for financial aid should be in the Director’s hands no later than March 15. Awards of financial aid will be announced about April 1.

MAILING ADDRESS

Students enrolled in the 1971 session will use the following mailing address:

Italian Summer School
Forest Hall
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

AUDITING COURSES

A regularly enrolled student may audit a course without charge in any School with the permission of his Director and the Director of the School giving the course. For persons not enrolled, the fee for auditing a course is $50.00 per week or $175.00 for four or more weeks. Auditors are welcome to attend all classes, and may take an active part in the social events and extra-curricular activities of the School. They may be accommodated in the dormitory and dining hall of the School if space is available, and will be expected to abide by the language-of-the-School-only rule at all times when they are at the School.

AUTOMOBILES
Students are invited to bring their automobiles; parking space in the summer is limited and regulated. All drivers register their automobiles with Campus Security at the time of arrival and must adhere strictly to the driving and parking regulations of the College and the Town of Middlebury.

BAGGAGE
Baggage can be sent by REA Express or with the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines.

CAREER PLACEMENT
The Placement Office provides all Summer School students and alumni of Middlebury College with a central source of job information, and with personal counseling on career planning. Students should register with the Placement Office as soon as possible after their arrival.

COMMENCEMENT — 1971
Commencement exercises for those receiving degrees in the summer of 1971 will be held on Tuesday evening, August 17.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT
The campus of Middlebury College is especially suited to the Summer Language Schools and their approach to a unified language experience. Each School has separate residence halls and dining facilities where only the language being studied is spoken.

Wright Theatre is available to each School which presents plays, poetry readings, etc. Dana Auditorium is the setting for the presentation of more than fifty foreign films and over fifty guest lecturers during the summer.

The College Store handles sales of textbooks for all courses and has a wide collection of complementary texts and contemporary and classical readings in all languages. It also offers general study and personal supplies.

The College Library is available to all summer students — with stack privileges. To complement the Library collection, each School maintains a curriculum library of current texts, recordings, etc.

The Stephen A. Freeman Language Laboratory is shared by all of the Schools and students use it free of additional charge. Each sound-proof, air-conditioned, individual practice carrel includes a console combining two tape recording and playback machines, permitting the student to work individually and in a flexible manner on his own exercise, at his own preferred speed and time.

FEES
The administration reserves the right to make any changes without notice in courses, staff, living arrangements, etc. The following information about fees should be carefully noted.

Rates
Rates in all the Schools vary according to single or double occupancy of rooms. The inclusive fee for registration, tuition, board and room will be from $675 to $725. A student's entire bill is payable upon receipt. Checks should be made payable to Middlebury College. Bills are mailed on 1 May. Any student who cannot pay his bill in full by 1 June will be placed on a waiting list and vacancies in each School will be filled as payment is received.

Registration Fee
Each accepted applicant must pay a $50 registration fee. This fee will be credited to the student's total bill and an applicant is considered officially registered only when he has paid this fee. It is required of every student. No dormitory space is assigned until this fee is received. This fee will be refunded only if notice of cancellation is received before April 25. After April 25, no refund will be made.

Auditors
All courses in a School are open to auditing at any time without charge by members of that School, or by members of another of the Language Schools on permission of both the respective Directors. Visitors to Middlebury, not members of a School, may be permitted to enroll as auditors, on payment of the fee of $50 a week or $175 for four or more weeks, arrangements to be made in the office.

Enrollment in Two Schools
A student enrolled in one School may also enroll for credit in another School, on payment of an additional fee of $50 per course if, by reason of his proficiency, he receives the consent of the Directors of both Schools. This privilege is subject to the limitations of staff and space, and may not be available in certain heavily elected courses. Students interested in a particular course should inquire in advance.

Transcript Fees
One official transcript of a summer's work will be issued without charge on written request to the College Registrar. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each additional transcript. No transcripts will be issued or grades given to students financially indebted to the College, until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the office of the Cashier.

Refunds
Owing to fixed obligations for instruction and maintenance, persons arriving late or leaving school before the close of the session must not expect reimbursement of any charges. No allowances will be made for week-end absences.

GRADING
The passing grade in the Language Schools is 80 for graduate students, 70 for undergraduate students.
HEALTH SERVICES
A full-time physician, assisted by a registered nurse, holds regular office hours at the infirmary, and is on call at all times in case of emergency. This service is free to all enrolled students. When the nature of a student’s illness requires the continued services of a doctor, hospitalization, or special medication, the student assumes all financial obligations involved, as his fees to the College do not cover them. The tuition fee does include an accident insurance policy with limited coverage. Special diets cannot be provided.

HOUSING — Off-Campus
Formal written permission must be obtained from the Director before students will be considered for off-campus living. Housing in Middlebury is very limited and the School is not able to undertake the task of securing furnished rooms or apartments in the village beyond sending a list of realtors and available addresses. The intensive nature of the program, together with the language pledge, make a session at the school incompatible with a family vacation and students are discouraged from having their families come to the Middlebury area for the summer.

LAUNDRY AND LINEN
Students must furnish their own linen. There is a linen-rental service available which will furnish sheets, pillowcase, and towels once a week. The dormitory is provided with a coin-operated automatic washer and dryer. Other arrangements for personal laundry may be made in the village after arrival. [See: Rooms — Furnished]

LOCATION OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE
Middlebury College, founded in 1800 and still one of the most charming of New England colleges, is located in a lovely Vermont countryside at the foot of the Green Mountains not far from Lake Champlain. The summer climate is delightful, and evenings tend to be cool. No college in the East offers more attractive opportunities for out-of-door recreation. The program of studies normally leaves late afternoons and week-ends free.
Students frequently spend an afternoon hiking in the mountains or swimming at Lake Dunmore. Lake Champlain, Mount Mansfield, Ticonderoga, the Adirondacks, Lake Placid, or the White Mountains: all can be visited in a day's trip.

PLEDGE

The sole medium of communication both inside and outside the classroom during the entire session is the language of the School. Students pledge themselves, upon arrival, to use the language exclusively while enrolled in the School. When a student pays his fee, he understands this requirement, is willing to sign an "Honor" agreement at the time of registration, and is willing to be governed by it throughout the session. Only the Director, or his designated assistant, may grant temporary release from the language pledge in cases which may warrant it. (An exception to the rule is made in certain reading assignments, since to restrict readings in such areas as literary criticism and methodology of teaching would be to seriously restrict access to major scholarship in these areas. Even in such cases, however, all discussion will be carried out in the language of the School.) The School may dismiss at any time and without refund any student who willfully breaks the language pledge.

It is requested that students not have subscriptions for English-language publications forwarded to their School address, nor should students bring with them radios, or phonograph records with lyrics not in the language of the School.

ROOMS — FURNISHED

All rooms in the dormitories are completely furnished, including pillows and blankets. Students must furnish their own linens, however.

The dormitories open for occupancy the evening of July 1, and close on August 19.

TRANSPORTATION

Middlebury is located halfway between Burlington and Rutland, Vermont. Students not arriving by automobile may make bus connections on the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines in New York City, Boston, Albany, Montreal or Burlington. Bus schedules will be provided on request. There is no railroad passenger service to Middlebury. There is scheduled air service to Burlington from Boston, New York City, Montreal, Albany, Bangor, Cleveland and Detroit.

Middlebury College announces the twenty-seventh session of its Russian Summer School; one of seven summer language schools which stand for mastery of the spoken and written language and coordinated study of the life, history, literature, and culture of the foreign country.

Founded by Mischa H. Fayer in 1945 and directed by Robert L. Baker since 1968, the Russian School provides a background in Russia’s rich humanistic culture for advanced undergraduates and graduate students with career interests where proficiency in Russian and acquaintance with Russian civilization and culture are of value.

Because of the intensive nature of the program and the rigorous standards insisted upon, a summer in the Russian School provides a context in which highly-motivated students can make greater progress in advancing their command of Russian than is possible in other programs here in the United States, or even in a summer program in the Soviet Union, where courses are not specifically designed for American students.

The Russian School operates on the following basic principles:
1. Recruitment of a staff of international background, education, and teaching experience.
2. Admission of students who are willing to use the language as the sole means of communication during the entire session.
3. Organization of course work, extra-curricular activities, and daily living into a unified learning experience.
4. Offering of separate courses and structured degree programs so that individual career and other personal aims may be realized.
The 1971 Russian School Staff

"A staff of international background, education, and teaching experience."

DIRECTOR'S STAFF

Danielle F. Shepherd, Secretary of the Russian School
Rogneda Kozlowski, Director of Dramatics
Nicholas Maloff, Coordinator of Extra-Curricular Activities
The Middlebury Idea

"Admission of students who are willing to use the language as the sole means of communication during the entire session."

The unifying feature of the "Middlebury method" has been the firm commitment of each student and staff member "to use only the language of the School during the entire session, wherever he may be." This tradition has contributed significantly to both individual and group success in each School; and willingness to maintain this tradition is a measure of any student's motivation to take maximum advantage of the opportunity which the Schools offer.

A Unified Language Experience

ATMOSPHERE, ACTIVITIES

The School endeavors to make everything in the life of the student during his stay contribute as effectively and pleasantly as possible to furthering his mastery of the language. Similarity of aims fosters an esprit de corps, while constant association with instructors at the dining tables, in songs and games, on hikes and picnics, no less than in the classroom, brings intellectual stimulus and added opportunity for advancing language proficiency.

The School believes that extra-curricular activities play an important part in the Middlebury way of mastering languages, and students are expected to participate actively. Picnics, excursions, vecherinki with musical and dramatic entertainments, special lectures by faculty members and guest speakers, and Russian movies provide ample recreational activity. Evenings are regularly set aside for sings and for learning Russian folk dances. (Students are encouraged to bring musical instruments and Russian or instrumental records suitable for dancing and informal vecherinki.) Under the direction of Mrs. Kozlowski the School is developing a dramatic repertory representing the main currents and developments of the Russian theater. A Vecher khudozhestvennoy samodejatel'nosti will be presented under the general supervision of Mr. Maloff.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

All students are expected to live in the Russian dormitory, Milliken Hall, and to take their meals with the staff members in one of the new social-dining units. Milliken Hall has both single and double rooms which are assigned in the order of receipt of the registration fee. A limited number of rooms are available for married couples where both husband and wife are accepted in the School. Permission to live off campus is given — rarely — to a student with a native command of Russian or a Russian spouse. But even these exceptions are rarely allowed first-year students.

Curriculum

“Offerings of separate courses and structured degree programs so that individual career and other personal aims may be realized.”

INTRODUCTION

The curriculum of the Middlebury Language Schools is designed to respond to the aims of individual students. Thus, an advanced undergraduate without clear career plans, a graduate student who wishes to become a teacher without following a degree program, or a graduate student seeking an advanced degree; all will find courses which will interest them.

Whatever an individual student's aim, he will find that four basic procedures in the Russian School will help him to plan his program:

1. Language placement based on the principle of “recognizing proficiency however acquired.”
2. Long-range curriculum planning.
3. Course and degree program prerequisites.
4. Consultation with the Director who advises each student in designing his program.

PLACEMENT
Placement in courses is by examinations administered as part of the admission procedure and/or during the registration period at the beginning of the session. Students admitted to the School for the first time should arrive no later than Friday, July 2, to insure a smooth placement and registration procedure. Placement in graduate-level courses for all new students will be only through the attainment of satisfactory scores on the four language-skills tests of the MLA Foreign Language Proficiency Tests, to be administered on Friday, July 2. Students failing to attain satisfactory scores on these tests will be required to take remedial courses at the undergraduate level before being admitted to courses granting graduate credit, regardless of the amount of previous study of the language which a student may have.

DESIGN OF THE CURRICULUM
The curriculum of the Russian School is designed so that a student may plan a comprehensive program which may span several sessions of the School.

Courses are grouped in six areas which relate to course prerequisites, career interests, and degree requirements.

All courses offer either graduate or undergraduate credit except for courses numbered 1-10 which offer only undergraduate credit.

In addition, a series of seminars (courses ending with a 9) is included in the curriculum; specific seminar topics reflect the areas of specialization of faculty during each session.

The curriculum of the Russian School is constantly undergoing study and revision. It is expected, however, that the following courses will be offered periodically. Courses will be offered, however, only when they can be staffed with truly excellent teachers. Courses marked (*) are offered during the 1971 Session and are described in detail in the 1971 Program of Studies.

COURSE LOADS, CREDITS, AND PREREQUISITES
A normal course load is three courses; all students are expected to take a full course load. Well prepared graduate students may, with the permission of the Director, take four courses after successfully completing one session. A degree candidate may request permission to take less than a normal course load if he needs less than six credits to complete degree requirements.

Two semester hours of credit are awarded for each course except for course No. 1 (6 semester hours) and course No. 3 (1 semester hour).

Prerequisites are designed to complement placement practices and help maintain a high level of instruction.

1. Students placed in course No. 5, No. 6, or both, may register for only one graduate course, No. 71 — The History of Russian Art. Exceptions to this requirement may be granted by the Director.

2. Courses No. 11 and 12 or demonstrated equivalent mastery of the language are prerequisites to courses No. 14, 26, 43, 54, and 59.

3. Students placed in course No. 11, No. 12, or both, may register for courses No. 23, 24, 33, 61, 62, and 77.
Assignment of instructors to courses is subject to change and courses may be cancelled for lack of sufficient registration.

As an aid to students who may wish to bring some of their own books with them and those who wish to do preliminary reading, we list basic readings and materials for courses. These must be considered tentative and are subject to change if cited items prove to be unavailable.

I. PRACTICAL LANGUAGE COURSES

A. UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

1. Intensive Intermediate Russian

This course is intended for those students who need a rapid intensive review of basic grammar or an activation of a passive knowledge of the grammar. Grammar review and treatment of some of the more complex points of grammar will be accompanied by training in conversational Russian designed to provide the student with assurance in self-expression and a basic active vocabulary and by practical phonetics work.

Fifteen classroom hours per week, with daily written and oral assignments and regular assignments in the language laboratory.

Textbooks:

Baker, Russian Phonetics Drills, Middlebury Russian School; Bryzguanova, Zvuki i intonatsija russkoj rechi (Moscow); Khvronina, Russian As We Speak It, Progress Publishers (Moscow); Khvronina and Shirochenskaya, Russian in Exercises, Progress Publishers (Moscow); Meades (ed.), Penguin Russian Reader, Penguin Books; Pulkina, Short Russian Reference Grammar, Foreign Language Publishing House (Moscow); Smile (Ulybka), Progress Publishers (Moscow); Stilman, Russian Verbs of Motion, Columbia University Press.

Credits:
Six semester hours of credit.

Mr. Maloff, Mr. Orth and Mr. Pahomov
2. Intermediate Conversation

Intended for students who have a good command of basic grammar but who need to develop ease and assurance in oral self-expression and a practical active vocabulary.

Daily classes in small groups requiring active participation by all students. Daily oral preparation assignments, involving regular use of the language laboratory.

Textbooks:

Bogatova et al., Practical Russian, Progress Publishers (Moscow); Khavronina, Russian As We Speak It, Progress Publishers (Moscow); Smile (Ulybka), Progress Publishers (Moscow).

Mrs. Kozlowski

3. Practical Phonetics and Diction

A practical study of Russian phonetics, emphasizing correct pronunciation and intonation.

Daily classroom sessions will be supplemented by regular use of the language laboratory and individual consultations as needed.

Textbooks:

Credits:

One semester hour of credit.

Mr. Baker

4. Contemporary Russian Readings

Reading of contemporary Russian materials, both literary and non-literary, will be used for further development of oral and written self-expression and for vocabulary expansion.

Daily assignments will involve preparation for oral discussions in class of material covered. Frequent small compositions will be assigned.

Textbooks:

(Use may also be made of current Soviet periodicals.)

Mr. Odabashian

5. Advanced Grammar and Syntax

Intended for students who have a strong active control of the fundamentals of Russian grammar. Study of the more complex points of Russian Grammar.
Daily written and oral preparation.

Textbooks:

Mrs. de Keyserlingk

6. Advanced Conversation

Intended for students with considerable fluency in Russian who need additional intensive oral practice and training in self-expression.

Daily classes will involve prepared reports and discussion on assigned topics and the staging of sketches prepared by students.

Textbooks:

A linguistic study of the structure of the contemporary Russian language, dealing specifically with syntax. Prerequisite: Course 23 or an introduction to descriptive linguistics.

Textbooks:

Belevitskaja-Khalizeva et al., Exercises in Russian Syntax. Part I: The Simple Sentence, Part II: Compound and Complex Sentences. Foreign Languages Publishing House (Moscow); Rudnev, Sintaksis sovremennogo russkogo jazyka, izdanie 2-oe, Izdatel'stvo “Vysshaja shkola” (Moscow).

Mr. Grebenschikov

III. LITERATURE

33. Survey of Nineteenth Century Russian Literature (to 1880)

Intended to enable the student to see Russian literature of the period covered in its historic and literary evolution and to familiarize himself with the artistic techniques of some of the major writers.

Readings:

Mr. Krugovoy

43. Development of the Russian Novel

Through a careful analysis of representative works a study will be made of the manner in which the Russian novel developed from its beginning in the early nineteenth century through the opening of the twentieth century. This course presupposes an acquaintance with nineteenth century Russian literature and a careful reading of Pushkin's Evgenij Onegin and Lermontov's Geroj nashego vremeni. Although these two works will not be read in the course, they will be discussed in some detail.

Readings:

The prospective student would be well advised to begin a careful reading of at least some of these works before the summer.

Mrs. Humesky
54. Dostoevsky

A study of the evolution of the novelistic art of one of the major figures in world literature, never more influential than in 1971, the 150th anniversary of his birth.

Readings:

Mochulsky, Dostoevsky, Princeton University Press; Dostoevsky, Bednye ljudi; Zapiski iz podpol'ja; Prestuplenie i nakazanie; Idiot; Brat'ja Karamazovy.

Prospective students would be well advised to begin a careful reading of at least some of these works before the summer.

Mr. Krugovoy

59. Seminar in Russian Literature: Pushkin and His Time

An approach to Pushkin and his age through the letters of the author. The seminar presupposes acquaintance with the major works of Pushkin and with the literary and cultural scene of the early part of the nineteenth century in Russia.

Readings:

Mr. Rzhevsky

IV. METHODS AND PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION

61. Methods and Materials for Teaching Russian in the Secondary School

A study of current methods and techniques of teaching Russian and an examination of materials suitable for use on the secondary-school level. To be taught in conjunction with a demonstration class in beginning Russian for high-school students. A required course for candidates for a Middlebury degree who wish recommendations for teaching positions at the secondary-school level.

Textbooks:

Mrs. Liapunov

62. Methods and Materials for Teaching Russian at the College Level

A study of current methods and techniques of teaching Russian and an examination of materials suitable for use on the college level. A required course for candidates for a Middlebury degree who wish recommendations for teaching positions at the college level.
Textbooks:

Mrs. Humesky

V. CIVILIZATION AND CULTURE

71. History of Russian Art
Survey of the development of Russian architecture, sculpture and painting from the Kiev period to the present day. The major portion of the course will deal with the period since 1700. An attempt will be made to correlate artistic trends with literary and other cultural events. Lectures are accompanied by the showing of slides of representative works of art. A mimeographed synopsis of the course will be available.

Mr. Klimoff

77. History of Russian Opera and its Relationships to Russian Literature
Probably in no country is the history of opera so closely interrelated with the history of literature as in Russia and in no country were major works of literature so consistently utilized for opera libretti. This course will study the development of Russian opera against this background. The course presupposes a reasonable acquaintance with the major works and trends of Russian literature since the beginning of the nineteenth century. The course will include listening to characteristic excerpts from recordings of Russian operas. A theoretical knowledge of musicology is not required.

Readings:
Pekelis, Istorija russkoj muzyki, Gosudarstvennoe muzykal'noe izdatel'stvo (Moscow, 1940).

Mr. Pressman

VI. RESEARCH AND SPECIAL STUDY

91. Research
Degree candidates who are interested in a problem of research in Russian language, literature, or civilization and culture are invited to profit by the individual guidance offered by the School faculty. Personal consultations will be arranged by the Director. Interested students must correspond with the Director well in advance of the opening of the summer session.
DEGREE PROGRAMS

Middlebury College offers programs for two advanced degrees through its Russian School:

The Middlebury Master of Arts degree requires an approved program of thirty semester hours of credit, of which twenty credits must be earned in residence. At least twenty credits must be earned in the area of the major language and ten may be earned in closely related subjects approved by the Director.

The Middlebury Doctor of Modern Languages degree is a very demanding degree with special requirements; information about this degree is detailed in a special brochure available on request from the Director.

Admission to candidacy for an advanced degree in the Middlebury Russian School is contingent on several entrance requirements:

1. Satisfactory completion of at least one summer in the School.
2. Proof of possession of an acceptable B.A. degree, or equivalent.
3. Satisfactory scores on the four language skills tests of the MLA Foreign Language Proficiency Tests. (These tests are usually administered on the Friday of the registration period.)

Planning a degree program will be done individually by each student in consultation with the Director. The candidate and Director will attempt to analyze strengths and weaknesses in the candidate's background in order to organize his program in three major areas:

1. Advanced study of the language in both its practical and theoretical aspects.
2. Study in literature, civilization and culture.
3. Study of foreign language pedagogy, applied linguistics, etc.

Degree requirements are limited but essential and should be noted carefully in planning a program.

1. An M.A. degree candidate is required to take at least one seminar course in residence in the Russian School.
2. A degree candidate who wishes recommendations for teaching positions is required to take course No. 24 and course No. 61 or 62. This requirement may be met by transfer with the Director's approval.

3. A degree candidate must continue to perform successfully in course work.

4. A degree candidate must attain satisfactory scores on the seven tests of the MLA Foreign Language Proficiency Tests for Teachers and Advanced Students.
General Information

ADMISSION
The Russian School provides instruction on the graduate and advanced undergraduate levels. The School does not offer courses in beginning Russian. All students accepted are placed in the classes best suited to their level of proficiency. When the application from a student who has not previously attended the School is received, the student will be sent entrance examination materials. Further testing will take place during the registration period. When a student applies for admission, he indicates willingness to accept the placement which will be made as a result of these tests, regardless of the number of years he has studied the language.

The School does not expect native command of Russian, but does expect a minimum preparation which will enable the student to take active part in both the academic and extra-curricular aspects of the program. While some students may be found eligible for admission after two years in a very solid and demanding program, usually three years of college study of the language is the minimum required to prepare a student to participate in the program of the School. In addition to a basic command of the fundamentals of Russian, a prospective student should have some acquaintance with the technical terminology necessary for the study of literature or for other specialized courses which he may wish to take.

ALUMNI ORGANIZATION
All students who have attended the Russian Summer School are invited to join the Russian School Alumni Organization.
Membership in the Alumni Organization provides a meaningful way to keep in touch with the activities of the School and to play a part in the furthering of the aims and activities of the School. Nominal membership dues (currently $1.00 annually) provide the funds for the Margaret L. Fayer Memorial Scholarship, awarded each year to a returning student. Alumni Organization members currently in attendance also plan a number of informal evenings for all students and aid in the orientation of new students in the School. Former students who may be interested in visiting the campus during the session are invited to correspond with the Director concerning the calendar of special events planned.

APPLICATION

Application materials accompany this catalog; please answer all questions on the application form as fully as possible. Attach continuation sheets, clearly marked, if necessary. In listing Russian language courses, please indicate the number of class meetings per week and the length of each course, and whether or not active use of the spoken language formed an integral part of class activities.

A confidential statement from a teacher acquainted with the current state of the student's command of Russian must be submitted on the form enclosed in this bulletin. This statement should come from a teacher affiliated with a college or university of recognized standing and must be sent by him directly to the Director of the Russian School. (Native speakers of Russian should have this form completed by a teacher with whom they have done advanced work in their major field of interest.)

All applications for admission must be accompanied by complete official transcripts of all academic work completed above the secondary-school level, whether or not studies at a particular school included Russian.

Students are never accepted for portions of a session. However, visitors to Middlebury who are not members of one of the schools may be permitted to enroll as auditors. (See below)

While it is usually possible to admit students to the Russian School as late as April or May, it is advisable to submit all application materials as early as possible (and applications involving financial aid must be received no later than March 15).

CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE RUSSIAN SCHOOL

Secretary of the Russian School
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

DATES AND ENROLLMENT PROCEDURES — 1971

The Russian School dormitory, Milliken Hall, will be open to receive students the evening of Thursday, July 1. The first meal served will be lunch on July 2. The Russian School will close after lunch on Thursday, August 19, and no guests can be accommodated after that time.

Upon arrival, each student should report to Milliken Hall where registration will be held on Friday, July 2, and Saturday morning, July 3. New students must plan to arrive on July 2, to assure completion of placement tests before the end of the registration period.

The formal opening of the School will be held on Sunday evening, July 4, and all students are expected to be present. Classes begin on Monday, July 5, and last through Friday, August 13. Final examinations will be held from Saturday, August 14, through Wednesday, August 18.

FINANCIAL AID

The Language Schools of Middlebury College offer several types of Financial Aid:

1. Tuition remission scholarships (partial or total).

2. Tuition, board, and room scholarships.

3. Work scholarships of differing amounts; work may be in kitchens, dining rooms, mail courier service, etc.

Two special scholarships are offered by the Russian School, each in the amount of $100.00:

The Margaret L. Fayer Memorial Scholarship is awarded to a returning student under the auspices of the Alumni Organization of the Russian School.

The Anastasia Pressman Memorial Scholarship is awarded to a student working for a graduate degree at Middlebury, preferably a prospective teacher of Russian.

Requests for Financial Aid Forms should be made to the School immediately. Application forms for financial aid and supporting documents must be received by the School no later than March 15. Awards of financial aid will be announced about April 1.

Cautions:
1. Do not wait until admitted to the School to request aid.
2. The demand for aid is great; do not count on receiving both a scholarship and work.
3. Work other than work scholarships is not possible because of the intensive, full-time nature of the program.

MAILING ADDRESS
Please inform all correspondents of the exact dates of the session and make certain that forwarding formalities are completed with the Post Office at the end of the session. Your address during the session will be:

Russian Summer School, Milliken Hall
Middlebury College
Middlebury, Vermont 05753

AUDITING COURSES
A regularly enrolled student may audit a course without charge in any School with the permission of his Director and the Director of the School giving the course. For persons not enrolled, the fee for auditing a course is $50.00 per week or $175.00 for four or more weeks. Auditors are welcome to attend all classes, and may take an active part in the social events and extra-curricular activities of the School. They may be accommodated in the dormitory and dining hall of the School if space is available, and will be expected to abide by the language-of-the-School-only rule at all times when they are at the School.
AUTOMOBILES
Students are invited to bring their automobiles; parking space in the summer is limited and regulated. All drivers register their automobiles with Campus Security at the time of arrival and must adhere strictly to the driving and parking regulations of the College and the Town of Middlebury.

BAGGAGE
Baggage can be sent by REA Express or with the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines.

CAREER PLACEMENT
The Placement Office provides all Summer School students and alumni of Middlebury College with a central source of job information, and with personal counseling on career planning. Students should register with the Placement Office as soon as possible after their arrival.

COMMENCEMENT — 1971
Commencement exercises for those receiving degrees in the summer of 1971 will be held on Tuesday evening, August 17.

CREDITS
Unless otherwise stated in the section Course Loads, Credits and Prerequisites, all courses offer two credits at either the undergraduate or graduate level. Graduate credits earned (toward a degree) at Middlebury expire ten years after the date of course completion. Students wishing to transfer credits to another institution should consult the section below on Fees.

A qualified undergraduate may accumulate a maximum of twelve graduate credits toward a Middlebury M.A. before receipt of the B.A., or equivalent, and acceptance as a degree candidate.

Transfer of credits from another institution, to be counted toward a Middlebury advanced degree, should be sent to the Director as soon as a student has been accepted as a candidate or, if he is already a candidate, as soon as the study is completed. The Director of the School, in consultation with the Director of the Middlebury Language Schools, determines the number of transfer credits — if any — that are to be accepted toward Middlebury degrees for work done elsewhere. It is recommended, therefore, that students planning to request transfer of credits consult the Director of the individual School.

Transfer credits toward a Middlebury degree expire ten years after completion of the study if the degree has not been earned.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT

The campus of Middlebury College is especially suited to the Summer Language Schools and their approach to a unified language experience. Each School has separate residence halls and dining facilities where only the language being studied is spoken.

Wright Theatre is available to each School which presents plays, poetry readings, etc. Dana Auditorium is the setting for the presentation of more than fifty foreign films and over fifty guest lecturers during the summer.

The College Store handles sales of textbooks for all courses and has a wide collection of complementary texts and contemporary and classical readings in all languages. It also offers general study and personal supplies.

The College Library is available to all summer students — with stack privileges. To complement the Library collection, each School maintains a curriculum library of current texts, recordings, etc.

The Stephen A. Freeman Language Laboratory is shared by all of the Schools and students use it free of additional charge. Each sound-proof, air-conditioned, individual practice carrel includes a console combining two tape recording and playback machines, permitting the student to work individually and in a flexible manner on his own exercise, at his own preferred speed and time.

FEES

The administration reserves the right to make any changes without notice in courses, staff, living arrangements, etc. The following information about fees should be carefully noted.
Rates
Rates in all the Schools vary according to single or double occupancy of rooms. The inclusive fee for registration, tuition, board and room will be from $675 to $725. A student's entire bill is payable upon receipt. Checks should be made payable to Middlebury College. Bills are mailed on May 1. Any student who cannot pay his bill in full by June 1 will be placed on a waiting list, and vacancies in each School will be filled as payment is received.

Registration Fee
Each accepted applicant must pay a $50 registration fee. This fee will be credited to the student's total bill and an applicant is considered officially registered only when he has paid this fee. It is required of every student. No dormitory space is assigned until this fee is received. This fee will be refunded only if notice of cancellation is received before April 25; after April 25, no refund will be made.

Auditors
All courses in a School are open to auditing at any time without charge by members of that School, or by members of another of the Language Schools on permission of both the respective Directors. Visitors to Middlebury, not members of a School, may be permitted to enroll as auditors, on payment of the fee of $50 a week or $175 for four or more weeks, arrangements to be made in the office of the Language Schools.

Enrollment in Two Schools
A student enrolled in one School may also enroll for credit in another School, on payment of an additional fee of $50 per course, if by reason of his proficiency, he receives the consent of the Directors of both Schools. This privilege is subject to the limitations of staff and space, and may not be available in certain heavily elected courses. Students interested in a particular course should inquire in advance.

Transcript Fees
One official transcript of a summer's work will be issued without charge on written request to the College Registrar. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each additional transcript. No transcripts will be issued or grades given to students financially indebted to the college, until satisfactory arrangements have been made at the office of the Cashier.

Refunds
Owing to fixed obligations for instruction and maintenance, persons arriving late or leaving school before the close of the session must not expect reimbursement of any charges. No allowances will be made for week-end absences.

GRADING
The passing grade in the Language Schools is 80 for graduate students, 70 for undergraduate students.

HEALTH SERVICES
A full-time physician assisted by a registered nurse holds regular office hours at the infirmary, and is on call at all times in case of emergency. This service is free to all enrolled students. When the nature of a student's illness requires the continued services of a doctor, hospitalization, or special medication, the student assumes all financial obligations involved, as his fees to the College do not cover them. The tuition fee does include an accident insurance policy with limited coverage. Special diets cannot be provided.

HOUSING — OFF-CAMPUS
Formal written permission must be obtained from the Director before students will be considered for off-campus living. Housing in Middlebury is very limited and the School is not able to undertake the task of securing furnished rooms or apartments in the village beyond sending a list of realtors and available addresses. The intensive nature of the program, together with the language pledge, make a session at the School incompatible with a family vacation and students are discouraged from having their families come to the Middlebury area for the summer.

LAUNDRY AND LINEN
Students must furnish their own linen. There is a linen-rental service available which will furnish sheets, pillowcase, and towels once a week. The dormitory is provided with a coin-operated automatic washer and dryer. Other arrangements for personal laundry may be made in the village after arrival. (See Rooms — Furnished.)

LOCATION OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Middlebury College, founded in 1800 and still one of the most charming of New England colleges, is located in a lovely Vermont countryside at the foot of the Green Mountains not far from Lake Champlain. The summer climate is delightful, and evenings tend to be cool. No college in the East offers more attractive opportunities for out-of-door recreation. The program of studies normally leaves late afternoons and week-ends free. Students frequently spend an afternoon hiking in the mountains or swimming at Lake Dunmore. Lake Champlain, Mount Mansfield, Ticonderoga, the Adirondacks, Lake Placid, or the White Mountains: all can be visited in a day’s trip.

PLEDGE

The sole medium of communication both inside and outside the classroom during the entire session is the language of the School. Students pledge themselves, upon arrival, to use the language exclusively while enrolled in the School. When a student pays his fee, he understands this requirement, is willing to sign an “Honor” agreement at the time of registration, and is willing to be governed by it throughout the session. Only the Director, or his designated assistant, may grant temporary release from the language pledge in cases which may warrant it. (An exception to the rule is made in certain reading assignments, since to restrict readings in such areas as literary criticism and methodology of teaching would be to seriously restrict access to major scholarship in these areas. Even in such cases, however, all discussion will be carried out in the language of the School. The School may dismiss at any time and without refund any student who willfully breaks the language pledge.

It is requested that students not have subscriptions for English-language publications forwarded to their School address, nor should students bring with them radios, or phonograph records with lyrics not in the language of the School.

ROOMS — FURNISHED

All rooms in the dormitories are completely furnished, including pillows and blankets. Students must furnish their own linens, however.

TRANSPORTATION

Middlebury is located halfway between Burlington and Rutland, Vermont. Students not arriving by automobile may make bus connections on the Greyhound and Vermont Transit Lines in New York City, Boston, Albany, Montreal or Burlington. Bus schedules will be provided on request. There is no railroad passenger service to Middlebury. There is scheduled air service to Burlington from Boston, New York City, Montreal, Albany, Bangor, Cleveland and Detroit.

TEACHER'S RECOMMENDATION

Name of applicant:
Name of referee:
Title:
Address:

You are being asked to write an evaluation of the Russian proficiency and academic ability of the above-named applicant for the Russian Summer School of Middlebury College. The Russian School provides intensive courses taught entirely in Russian at the advanced undergraduate and graduate levels. In addition, all students are pledged to the exclusive use of Russian both inside and outside the classroom for the duration of the program.

In your evaluation please indicate when and in what connection you knew the applicant.

Please be as objective as possible in your evaluation of language proficiency and ability. Neither over-rating nor under-rating his ability will be in the best interests of the candidate himself. Please indicate the level at which the candidate can read, write, speak and understand spoken Russian. Is his command of the language sufficient to allow him to take active part in all phases of the life of the School and to derive benefit from the program of the School?

Please evaluate also the over-all academic ability of the student and his potential. (In the case of applicants who are native speakers of Russian, you are being asked to evaluate only over-all academic ability and potential, especially as related to his major field of interest.)

You may use the reverse of this form for continuation of your evaluation should the space provided below prove insufficient.

(Signature) (Date)

This form must be returned directly to the following address. It should not be shown to the applicant. The contents of this evaluation will be kept strictly confidential.
